U.S., Israel Seek Common Response To Mideast Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Israel are seeking a common response to attempts to change the ground rules governing Middle East peace efforts.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon scheduled two days of talks beginning at lunch today with the avowed purpose of coordinating the positions of both nations.

Their immediate concern is a special session of the United Nations Security Council next week to debate the Middle East.

The major aim of the Palestinian Liberation Organization and some of its Arab backers is to modify the two U.N. resolutions that are the framework for constructing cease-fire and negotiating efforts.

The United States has said repeatedly these resolutions — Nos. 242 and 338 — “are the only basis for peace negotiations” and any other resolutions that “are not helpful to the peace process” will be vetoed.

Kissinger tried to assure Allon about the firmness of the American position when he told the Israeli minister during arrival ceremonies Tuesday that their talks will end with “a common position.”

But a department spokesman said Monday he would not rule out U.S. acceptance of changes in the current U.N. resolutions if they promote peace in the Middle East.

That is where the views of Israel and the United States separate. Allon's government is opposed to any changes or new resolutions and, in fact, is boycotting next week's debate.

Israel has criticized the United States for not vetoing the resolution setting up the special session, but the American side said it could not veto a procedural matter.

The Israeli fear centers on two issues. First, an attempt to shift the peacekeeping machinery to the Security Council from the Geneva conference set up in the wake of the 1973 Middle East war.

Such a shift would give the Soviet Union a veto over peacekeeping operations. As it now stands, Russia, as a cochairman of the Geneva conference, cannot operate unilaterally on behalf of the Arabs.

The other concern, which probably carries a sharper edge among Israelis, is over attempts to change the wording of resolution 242 to incorporate the question of Arab-Palestinian nationalism.

Currently, Resolution 242 speaks only of a refugee problem, while the Arab side generally wants it to deal with the national rights of the Palestinian people.

Icy Punch Hits Nation's Midsection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's midsection took an icy punch early today as sub-zero temperatures spread as far south as Colorado and Kansas. In the eastern Dakotas and northern Minnesota, the readings plunged past the 20-below-zero mark.

Snow and blowing snow was widespread from Oklahoma and Kansas through Illinois and Michigan. Two men died in northwestern Minnesota Tuesday in a highway collision during a blinding snowstorm.

Travel advisories were issued for Kansas and Missouri Tuesday night. Five inches of snow was forecast for northeast Kansas today. And there was freezing rain early today in Missouri.

Winter storm watches were posted overnight in the southern half of Illinois, central and southern Indiana, western Kentucky and western Pennsylvania.

Predawn rain in Arkansas, Tennessee and Ohio was expected to change to snow later today. Snow was scattered throughout the Rockies.

Governor Fires OIC Chief For Neglect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Saying the evidence to support his action was “overwhelming,” Gov. James A. Rhodes Tuesday ordered the removal of Gregory J. Stebbins from the Ohio Industrial Commission.

In ordering the dismissal, which became effective with the close of business today, the governor accused Stebbins, the commission chairman, of “inefficiency in office, neglect of duty, misfeasance, malfeasance and non-feasance.”

Stebbins, who could not be reached for comment, may request a public hearing on the charges within seven days of the order.

The governor said the action followed an investigation by his office into Stebbins' conduct in office. He said the probe was prompted by news media reports, revelations from legislative committee hearings and statements from private citizens.

Rhodes said most of the evidence, “which is overwhelming,” was first reported in The Plain Dealer.

Stebbins was appointed in 1972 by Gov. John J. Gilligan, a fellow Democrat. Gilligan has confirmed that in late 1974 he prepared—but never followed through on—an order suspending Stebbins from his post on charges similar to those specified by Rhodes.

The 1973 ouster attempt was reported to have stemmed from a complaint by another commission member, Marguerite Neal, who objected to the handling of a workmen's compensation case that involved Stebbins.

Snow flurries and much colder tonight, low 5-10. Cloudy and cold with a chance of snow flurries Thursday, high in teens. Chance of precipitation, 90 per cent tonight and 30 per cent Thursday. Temperatures Tuesday were: high, 37; low, 32.

That case was investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol and was presented to a Franklin County grand jury last September. The grand jury took no action, citing insufficient evidence.

The case in question centered around a $20,000 workmen's compensation claim case which Stebbins approved in 1973. The money went to a Columbus claimant, but Stebbins has admitted that at least $6,000 of the total returned to him via a real estate transaction.

Stebbins said he had sold the house involved to a holding company for $10,000. The holding company later resold the house for $18,000 to the workmen's compensation claimant whose case was approved by Stebbins. Stebbins denied any wrongdoing.

Following the investigation, Gov. Rhodes asked for a Highway Patrol report on Stebbins.

Dixie Watters Named 4th Ward Councilman

OATH OF OFFICE — City Solicitor John Adkins (right) administered the oath of office to council and the mayor Tuesday. From the right, they are: Tom Wells, David Crawford, Glen Steve Jones, councilmen at large; Dixie Watters, Fourth Ward; John Jenkins, Second Ward; David Goldschmidt, First Ward; Harold Hoffman, Third Ward; Mayor Frank Barnhill, Council President Joe Bell.

Circleville City Council appointed Robert Shadley as Clerk and Dixie Watters to fill the vacant Fourth Ward seat Tuesday as their first order of business following swearing-in ceremonies.

Last spring prior to the primary election Watters made the decision not to seek re-election. There were no other candidates. Paul Roan sought the nomination as a write-in candidate but failed to gain the needed 25 votes in the primary.

Watters agreed to accept the appointment to the vacant seat. Shadley has served as clerk since Jan. 16, 1957. His salary for the current term is $2,717 a year.

John Jenkins was elected president pro tem of council. Committees named by president Joe Bell were:

Finance — David Goldschmidt, chairman; Dixie Watters, David Crawford.

Safety — Tom Wells, chairman; Crawford, Steve Jones, Harold Hoffman.

Service — John Jenkins, chairman; Watters, Jones, Hoffman.

In the only legislation passed by Council, $2,100 was appropriated to pay for improvements to Firehouse No. 2.

Goldschmidt called a meeting of the finance committee 7 p.m. Monday to go over pay increase legislation for the employees of the city. All members of council were invited to attend the meeting.

Mayor Frank Barnhill told council he had enjoyed working with them during the past four years and was looking forward to the next four. “During the last four years the city has come a good distance. It has been a successful four years although we have not always accomplished what we set out to do. I'm looking forward to another four years and hope we can make the community prosper by bringing new industry and more jobs to Circleville,” Barnhill said.

Following the council meeting the mayor and service director Atwood Jones discussed making applications for community block grants funded through the department of Housing and Urban Development.

The mayor said that although he has not been enthusiastic about federal funding programs in the past, he felt the city should make an effort to secure a community block grants. Under this program, funding of the project is 100 per cent.

Barnhill and Jones have been told that projects connected with housing projects stood the best chance of being funded.

members to employ the firm of Ralph W. Woolpert, Dayton, consulting engineers and planners, to prepare applications on projects for the city. Projects mentioned include installation of wheelchair curb ramps, sanitary and storm sewers for the Lowery Lane-Norfolk Ave. area. An application has already been made by Pickaway County Commissioners and the city for construction of a Senior Citizen Center.

Fire Chief Mike Brown announced that delivery of the new mini-pumper purchased by Circleville Twp. Trustees could be expected any day.

It was also announced that Safety Director Ed Ebert had signed contracts with Jackson Twp. and Washington Twp. for the emergency medical service.

Council members present included President Bell, first ward councilman Goldschmidt, second ward councilman Jenkins, third ward councilman Hoffman, fourth ward councilman Watters; councilmen at large Crawford, Jones and Wells. Also present were solicitor John Adkins, who administered the oath of office; clerk Shadley, Mayor Barnhill, chief of police Robert Temple, Fire Chief Brown, Director of public utilities Charles Taylor; Service Director Jones. At the end of the meeting Safety Director Ebert put in his appearance. He had been negotiating with Washington Twp. trustees on the emergency medical service.

Plant Blast Trial Near Conclusion

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Summations were expected today in the Sponge Rubber Products Co. arson trial in U.S. District Court.

J. Bernard Ricks was the last witness called by the Rev. David N. Bubar of Memphis, Tenn., one of nine men on trial for the destruction of the Shelton plant March 1. Bubar and Ricks are both self-proclaimed psychics and were advisers to Charles Moeller of Cridersville, Ohio, one of the defendants. The other seven defendants are from Pennsylvania.

Ricks said he told Moeller, president of Sponge Rubber's parent company, “the Shelton plant sitting on the river with the big chimney...was going to blow up.”

Bubar also predicted a disaster would strike the plant. Ricks said he has known Bubar since 1957.

New Bills Flooding Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Several bills that could affect the day-to-day existence of Ohioans were among 41 introduced Tuesday in the Senate and House.

Among them was a previously announced employment-consumer proposal by Sen. Robert D. Freeman, D-29 Canton, to suspend the sales tax on new car purchases to stimulate employment in the auto industry.

Freeman lost by just two House votes last year a similar proposal which, if enacted, would have saved the buyer of a $3,000 automobile $120, based on the 4 per cent tax rate.

Also introduced, on the first day of deliberations by the two chambers, were proposals giving the state jurisdiction over unsafe grade crossings, and to require pay telephones to show the numbers of police, fire, and ambulance units.

A series of bills were offered to implement two proposals approved by voters in the November election—one eliminating the bed sheet ballot in Ohio; the other establishing legal machinery to permit charity bingo.

Other new measures outlaw the dumping of raw sewage on open ground, permit Ohioans convicted of drunk driving to use their vehicles to get to work, and to alleviate the glue sniffing problem by requiring manufacturers of airplane glue and similar products to include an additive inducing illness.

Ohio Assembly Eyes Discrimination Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new law banning sex discrimination in credit was scheduled for some last-minute tinkering on the House floor today, a week before its effective date.

Lawmakers scheduled a vote on an emergency bill which would reword the law to make it conform with new federal consumer statutes.

“But it really doesn't change the intent of the state law, and it doesn't take any teeth out,” said Rep. Michael G. Oxley, R-82 Findlay, the House sponsor.

The credit discrimination law takes effect next Wednesday, with or without the changes. It was passed by the legislature last year and signed by the governor on Oct. 15.

It forbids discrimination based on sex or marital status in all credit transactions; it requires lenders to consider a combined family income rather than just the husband's salary when considering a mortgage application, and it gives the Ohio Civil Rights Commission enforcement powers.

The law also forbids credit bureaus from considering sex when making credit evaluations, and allows either spouse in a marriage the right to demand a separate credit rating from the other spouse.

Oxley said there is no intent to change those provisions. The problem, he said, is that Congress was working on its own credit bill at the same time as the Ohio General Assembly.

The resulting federal law contained some slight differences which could cause needless expense and trouble for businesses.

Under the present wording of the two laws, one sponsor noted, a business could be required to print two notices of nondiscrimination on its credit applications — one with the state wording, one with the federal wording and both meaning the same.

The bill scheduled for a vote today would change the state wording so a single notice would suffice.

Oxley said the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants took the two laws and compared them.

“Where there was some conflict, they recommended a change,” he said.

Another provision of the bill requires creditors upon request to explain why credit was rejected, though that explanation can say simply that the applicant failed to meet the regular standards.

Oxley said that provision already is in the federal law.

Most bills before the newly convened legislature are in committees of the House and Senate, with major floor action not expected before next week.

The House Insurance, Utilities, and Financial Institutions' subcommittee on utility rate making neared a vote on a measure requiring utilities to calculate the net worth of their plants and equipments on the basis of original cost.

Repealed by the legislature, similar to another bill pending in the Senate, would be an embattled formula that lets the companies figure their worth on replacement costs, allegedly causing higher rates for consumers.

The Senate called for votes on three measures, including one that would complete the long-planned transition of the University of Cincinnati to a state institution.

Other Senate measures would permit banks to utilize photographs in the maintenance of certain records and make Jan. 11 Amelia Earhart Day in Ohio, honoring the world's first widely known aviatrix.

Three Cars Stolen From City Today

Two cars were stolen from Circleville residents Tuesday night or Wednesday morning and, while police were searching for the vehicles, another auto was taken about 10 a.m.

Both Police Chief Bob Temple and Sgt. Larry Pontious are at a loss to explain the sudden rash of car thefts. Apparently nothing can be done by auto owners to protect their vehicles, they said, as most of the cars taken recently were locked and none had ignition keys in them.

Law enforcement agencies across the nation are notified within minutes after a car is confirmed to have been stolen, Sgt. Pontious said.

In the local department, officers immediately enter the 2 car's registration into the National Crime Information Center computer (NCIC). If the registration is checked by an agency in the United States, it will register as a stolen car.

Sgt. Pontious noted that thieves apparently are concentrating on Ford Torinos. Four Torinos have apparently been taken from the city since Dec. 5 and one was taken from Elsea's Mobile Village. Three have been recovered, on in the city and two in Columbus.

A 1973 Torino owned by Kathy Salyers, 810 S. Scioto St., was taken from in front of her house Tuesday or Wednesday between 7 p.m. and 5:45 a.m.

The car, valued at $3,000, has a white body with black top. Its license number is 3256 KP.

Witnesses saw a youth take a 1974 Plymouth Satellite from in front of the 431 S. Pickaway St. home of Michael Hettinger about 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Officers moved immediately to the area, but the car thief apparently eluded their attempts for an apprehension.

Hettinger's car, light green in color, bears Ohio License Y 788 L.

A 1975 Ford Club Wagon owned by John W. Boggs, 163 W. Union St., was stolen from in front of his house after midnight.

The eight-passenger vehicle, green in color, is valued at $6,906.82. It had a CB antenna on the left side and a trailer hitch on the rear.

Boggs, who noted that the vehicle was locked at the time of the theft, said it contained about a half a tank of gasoline.

License number of the vehicle is 899000.

Dana Leach, 111 1/2 E. Water St., told police that thieves made an unsuccessful attempt to steal his car Tuesday or Wednesday between 10:45 p.m. and 7:10 a.m.

Leach told officers that his key would not fit in the ignition of the vehicle when he attempted to start it this morning. He then noticed that another key had been broken off inside the ignition switch. The glove box on the car was also opened.

Police Sgt. Wes Barton is holding a red five-speed bicycle with black seat for the owner to claim. Sgt. Barton found the bike behind Block's Shoe Store 12:19 a.m. Wednesday.

Vandals broke the windshield on a car owned by Harold Queen, 456 W. High St., police said.

The car was parked at the side of his house. Value of the glass is $100.

Robert Snyder, Route 2, Williamsport, told police that vandals broke a CB whip antenna from his vehicle between 1 p.m. Tuesday and 3 a.m. today.

The antenna is valued at $35.

Snyder's car was parked at Berger Hospital at the time of the theft.

Institution Of Marriage Fares Poorly Across U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The institution of marriage apparently is faring poorly with young Americans. More are remaining single and those who do marry are divorcing or separating at higher rates, the Census Bureau says.

A census report released Tuesday on marital status and living arrangements in the United States in the first half of the 1970s also showed a continuation of trends toward a greater number of families headed by women and more children living with single parents.

Based on its nationwide annual survey, conducted last March, the bureau said the number of persons between 25 and 34 years of age who never married has increased by about 50 per cent since 1970, from 2.9 million to 4.2 million persons.

And the number of persons in that age group heading their own household almost doubled, from 915,000 to 1.8 million, the report said.

As a result, the number of persons in the young adult age group living away from their parents' homes rose from 592,000 in 1970 to 1.2 million in 1975, the study said. It reported that the percentage of young adults living alone increased from 21.2 per cent of all 25-to-34-year-olds to 28.5 per cent during the five year period.

Census demographer Arthur Norton said the trend of young people living away from their parental home may level off soon, however. He cited bureau surveys of social indicators which show "there still seems to be a high regard for family life," although he said statistics have yet to reflect a leveling trend.

On dissolution of marriages, the report noted that in 1975 10 per cent of all persons 25 to 54 years old who had ever married were reported as either divorced and not remarried or separated. The 1970 figure was 7 per cent.

One consequence of higher divorce and separation rates has been an increase in the number of families headed by women and the number of children living with only one parent. The study revealed that in 1975, 80 per cent of all children under 18 lived with both parents, compared with 85 per cent five years earlier.

In the same period, the number of families headed by women jumped by 1.6 million to 7.2 million. That means the percentage of families headed by women increased from 11 per cent in 1970 to 13 per cent in 1975.

Group Files Expense Data

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio League of Women Voters has filed a called-for addition to its report on campaign expenses in connection with its opposition to the recently defeated economic proposals of Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The addition was filed with the secretary of state's office "under protest," league president Joan Lawrence said. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown requested the extra report because seven television stations had donated broadcast time to the league for its arguments in opposition to the $4.5 billion proposal turned down by voters in the Nov. 4 election.

Mrs. Lawrence said the cost of the time from four of the stations totaled $13,200. She explained that reports from the three other stations have not yet been received so a complete estimate was unavailable.

In its postelection report the league said it spent $2,223 to produce video tape recordings used by the seven stations.

She contended the free time was not actually a donation, but was instead required under the so-called fairness doctrine of the Federal Communications Commission.

Three Appear Today On Criminal Charges

Three men appeared this morning in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court on felony charges.

David Harold LeMaster, Columbus, appeared for sentencing on a charge of attempted felonious assault. He had previously entered a plea of guilty to the charge and the court had ordered a pre-sentence report on him.

Today, LeMaster was sentenced to a term of 1-10 years at the Mansfield Reformatory for Men. Attorney James Kingsley, representing LeMaster during the court session, asked the court to consider probation since the man involved in the assault was not seriously injured. Judge William Ammer said that the crime of violence against another individual was too serious in his opinion to consider probation.

Also appearing for sentencing was John H. Shaw, Route 2, Williamsport. Shaw, also represented by Kingsley, had previously pleaded guilty to gross sexual imposition. Judge Ammer had previously ordered a pre-sentence report and had order Shaw to be examined at the Columbus State Hospital.

At the beginning of today's proceedings against Shaw, the court concluded that he was not mentally ill and proceeded with the sentencing. He suspended a term of 2-5 years at the Ohio Penitentiary and placed Shaw on probation for three years.

Billy Whitley appeared during the mid-week session of court on a motion for shock probation. He had originally been sentenced to two concurrent terms of six months to five years at the Mansfield Reformatory on two charges of grand theft. The court granted his motion for early release from that prison sentence and placed him on probation for three years.

Representing the state of Ohio during the criminal proceedings was Richard Gerhardt, county prosecutor.

Demos Eye 'Sunshine' Caucuses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority Democrats in the General Assembly still are considering opening their political caucuses to the public and press, although it isn't clear yet whether they are required to.

Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, said he wants to take up the question of the state's new open meetings law but "it'll be announced after we have a closed caucus."

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, likewise remained noncommittal as legal advisers pondered the question of whether the legislature was included in the new law.

Generally, it says majority members of all state and local public agencies must conduct their business at open meetings. However, a provision in Ohio's Constitution permits members of the General Assembly to meet in executive session when agreed to by a two-thirds majority.

Ocasek said he hopes to have the answer this week or next. The Senate leader opened up last year the previously closed sessions of the important Senate Rules Committee, following the lead of the corresponding House panel two years earlier. The so-called "sunshine" law became effective last Nov. 28.

Caroline On Bad List

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Caroline Kennedy has been named the worst dressed woman in the world by fashion designer Mr. Blackwell, who called the daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy a symbol of young America's "careless" attire.

He described the 17-year-old as "a shaggy dog in pants."

Also named Tuesday were Nancy Kissinger, wife of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, who was called "a traveling fashion stew," and Princess Anne of England, who was scolded for dressing like "a royal auto mechanic."

Others on the list were: singers Helen Reddy and Bette Midler, TV actress Sally Struthers, country singers Tammy Wynette and Donna Fargo, who received a dual citation, fashion designer Sonia Rykiel, and actress Tatum O'Neal, 12-year-old daughter of actor Ryan O'Neal, described by Blackwell as "12 going on 40."

Tenth place went to rock star Elton John.

"He would be the campiest spectacle in the Rose Parade if he entered," said Blackwell.

Appeals Court Report Issued

A report on the activities of the Fourth District Court of Appeals shows that the court filed three new cases in December and terminated none.

There were 14 pending cases at the beginning of the month and 17 at the end of the month.

Age Fails To Dampen Dance Love

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Valentina Cotta, who complains that "staying in bed makes you sicker," says she would rather be out dancing and singing love songs.

The blind Puerto Rico native who moved here with a daughter six years ago will be 115 next month, according to her family. Hospital records from a 1975 stay listed her age as 109, and welfare records say she is younger than that, but the family contends she was born in February 1861.

She remained hospitalized here Tuesday, where she was taken on New Year's Eve after complaining of pains in her legs and back. The family says her doctor blames old age for the pains and says she has a strong heart and good health.

She normally lives with daughter Felicitia Cotta, 55. Another daughter, America Lopez, 65, also is a Lorain resident. Mrs. Cotta has outlived nine of her 12 children.

With great-granddaughter Luz Atkinson translating, Mrs. Cotta told of having grown up in the village of "Good Water" near San Juan. She remembered the dirt floor of the hut and said her best memory was of living with her mother.

"She used to sing and dance," Mrs. Cotta said. "I love to dance."

"If it weren't for a few pains, I'd go dancing," she said. "If I weren't blind, I'd get married again."

Bid For Pay Turned Down

CINCINNATI (AP) — Six indicted Cincinnati police officers who were suspended last month have been denied a motion for back pay by Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge William McClain.

The judge said Tuesday that the officers had not exhausted their remedies before the Cincinnati Civil Service Commission.

Following the ruling, the six asked for reinstatement hearings.

Attorney Donald Hardin argued that the officers' rights to due process were violated by Safety Director Richard Castellini when they were suspended Dec. 22 following their indictment by a Hamilton County special grand jury.

The six, plus Police Chief Carl Goodin, were indicted on charges of misconduct. The special grand jury is continuing its investigation in the case.

Three Appear Today On Criminal Charges

Three men appeared this morning in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court on felony charges.

David Harold LeMaster, Columbus, appeared for sentencing on a charge of attempted felonious assault. He had previously entered a plea of guilty to the charge and the court had ordered a pre-sentence report on him.

Today, LeMaster was sentenced to a term of 1-10 years at the Mansfield Reformatory for Men. Attorney James Kingsley, representing LeMaster during the court session, asked the court to consider probation since the man involved in the assault was not seriously injured. Judge William Ammer said that the crime of violence against another individual was too serious in his opinion to consider probation.

Also appearing for sentencing was John H. Shaw, Route 2, Williamsport. Shaw, also represented by Kingsley, had previously pleaded guilty to gross sexual imposition. Judge Ammer had previously ordered a pre-sentence report and had order Shaw to be examined at the Columbus State Hospital.

At the beginning of today's proceedings against Shaw, the court concluded that he was not mentally ill and proceeded with the sentencing. He suspended a term of 2-5 years at the Ohio Penitentiary and placed Shaw on probation for three years.

Billy Whitley appeared during the mid-week session of court on a motion for shock probation. He had originally been sentenced to two concurrent terms of six months to five years at the Mansfield Reformatory on two charges of grand theft. The court granted his motion for early release from that prison sentence and placed him on probation for three years.

Representing the state of Ohio during the criminal proceedings was Richard Gerhardt, county prosecutor.

Demos Eye 'Sunshine' Caucuses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority Democrats in the General Assembly still are considering opening their political caucuses to the public and press, although it isn't clear yet whether they are required to.

Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, said he wants to take up the question of the state's new open meetings law but "it'll be announced after we have a closed caucus."

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, likewise remained noncommittal as legal advisers pondered the question of whether the legislature was included in the new law.

Generally, it says majority members of all state and local public agencies must conduct their business at open meetings. However, a provision in Ohio's Constitution permits members of the General Assembly to meet in executive session when agreed to by a two-thirds majority.

Ocasek said he hopes to have the answer this week or next. The Senate leader opened up last year the previously closed sessions of the important Senate Rules Committee, following the lead of the corresponding House panel two years earlier. The so-called "sunshine" law became effective last Nov. 28.

Caroline On Bad List

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Caroline Kennedy has been named the worst dressed woman in the world by fashion designer Mr. Blackwell, who called the daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy a symbol of young America's "careless" attire.

He described the 17-year-old as "a shaggy dog in pants."

Also named Tuesday were Nancy Kissinger, wife of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, who was called "a traveling fashion stew," and Princess Anne of England, who was scolded for dressing like "a royal auto mechanic."

Others on the list were: singers Helen Reddy and Bette Midler, TV actress Sally Struthers, country singers Tammy Wynette and Donna Fargo, who received a dual citation, fashion designer Sonia Rykiel, and actress Tatum O'Neal, 12-year-old daughter of actor Ryan O'Neal, described by Blackwell as "12 going on 40."

Tenth place went to rock star Elton John.

"He would be the campiest spectacle in the Rose Parade if he entered," said Blackwell.

Logan Elm Offers HS Students Summer Field Studies Program

Logan Elm High School students will have the opportunity for participating in the Field Studies Program for this next summer.

Students can enroll in either one of two interdisciplinary, educational trips being offered at Logan Elm, one heading to the Northwest and one to the Southwest. Both trips will leave the high school early July 19 and return Aug. 8.

The Northwest trip will travel through ten states and include the Badlands, Black Hills, Mt. Rushmore areas of South Dakota; Devil's Tower, Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons in Wyoming; Dinosaur National Monument and Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado.

The Southwest trip will traverse 11 states and hit such high points as Carlsbad Caverns and White Sands National Monument in New Mexico; a number of historic sports around Tuscon, Ariz., including Saguaro National Monument; a 2-hour visit in Nosagles, Mexico; the Grand Canyon; Zion and Bryce Canyons in Utah; Mesa Verde National Park in Colorado.

Included in the many experiences will be rubber raft trips down the Colorado and Snake Rivers, hikes (including an overnight hike), and lots of tours of such things as caves, mines, ghost towns, Indian cliff dwellings, museums, and visitor centers. Numerous campfire programs, sponsored by the National Park Service, will also be attended in the evenings. On Sundays the groups will either attend church in a national park or have devotions before starting the day's activities. Plans currently call for the two groups to rejoin in the Denver-Boulder, Colorado area on August 5 for a pleasure outing, possibly a rodeo, before starting the homeward trek.

Since this is an interdisciplinary course, no one area will be studied exclusively. Biology, ecology, geology, history, and spanish, as well as other disciplines, will all be touched upon at various times during the trips. As their main assignment, students will be keeping a notebook, which will contain a daily journal of their impressions and observations, a set of questions and answers pertaining to the various areas to be visited, and data collected about their environment as they travel.

The important aspect of the trips is that the students will be doing and experiencing things which are out of reach in the usual high school setting. They will be in the position of explorers experiencing things for the first time.

Travel will be in fifteen-passenger vans provided by International Field Studies at Capital University. IFS will also be providing the camping gear and covered trailers for carrying the equipment, one of which will be pulled behind each van. Besides providing the above, IFS will also be assisting Vic Pontius in coordinating the trips and are already setting up the lodging stops.

Much of the camping will be in national park campgrounds, with some in state parks and some in commercial campgrounds. Most meals will be prepared in camp, but the groups will eat out on a few occasions. Students on each trip will be divided into four crews for performing camp duties: a tent crew, a van crew, a cooking crew, and a cleanup crew, with each crew being headed up by one of the four chaperones leading each trip.

Most of the cost of the trip will be borne by students fees with some help from the Logan Elm Board of Education. The student fee includes food, all transportation costs, insurance, camping equipment, lodging and camping fees, tour costs, laundry costs, and other educational expenses.

Efforts are being made to locate money for a Field Studies Scholarship Fund, so far without success, in order that funds would be available to assist deserving students who cannot come up with the entire fee. Any civic organizations, industries, or individuals who are willing to help in this capacity would be greatly appreciated and should contact Vic Pontius, field studies coordinator, either at the high school or at home. Applications have been sent to several foundations in search of money for this purpose but none have responded positively as yet.

Hopefully, many, if not all, of the individuals who participate in this experience will count it as one of the highlights of their entire lives. Dow West, principal at Logan Elm, who has been instrumental in helping maintain interest in initiating a program of this type, feels that this will be "one of the greatest things to ever happen to the Logan Elm School District."

The Logan Elm Board of Education has approved the granting of one unit of credit to those who complete the trip requirements under the heading of Field Natural History. Since this is the first venture and since this is the Bicentennial Year, the trip will be open to anyone who is currently enrolled in Logan Elm High School or who will be enrolled during the 1976-77 school year. Applications are now available from Pontius at the high school and include a list of 33 questions and answers about the details of the trips, as well as a clothing and equipment list and tentative itineraries for both the Northwest Trip and the Southwest Trip.

Trip To Europe Is Subject At Kiwanis Meeting

Walter J. Hall was the guest speaker of the Circleville Kiwanis Club, Monday, when it met at Pickaway Arms.

Hall showed and narrated slides of a recent trip to Europe made by himself, his wife and Dwight Steele.

Guests at the meeting included Mike Allen, Frank Hudson and Tom Farynowski. Kiwanians Bill Mosher, John Raterman and Bill Rosengarten volunteered to attend Key Club meeting this week while Kiwanians Charlie Ried, Ed Farynowski, Bryce Crissom, Wes Barton, Dave Scheible, Bill Rosengarten, Marty Sharrett and Ray Cundiff volunteered to attend this week's Moundbuilders Kiwanis Club meeting.

Jim Shea announced that final preparation was being made for the presentation of the Kiwanis Flag Pageant, "So Proudly We Hail" for the Pickaway Shrine Club Jan. 19. Shea also said the pageant would be presented April 26 for a special meeting at the Monday Club and the Pickaway County Historical Society.

Scheible announced plans for the annual Kiwanis Chess Tournament and stated that only eight Kiwanians has registered for the tournament. Clark Martin announced that the Ohio Kiwanis District bowling tournament would be held in Cleveland March 20 and stated it was a team event only. Interested Kiwanians should contact Martin as quickly as possible about forming a team or teams for the tournament.

A Page Of Opinion

And Away We Go!

Well, folks, 1976 is here. You can tell it by the flood of cheap bicentennial, junk being offered for sale, and by the cry of the politician in the wilds.

Both can be expected and both will continue through the year. Most interesting of the two will be the political wars as the campaign for the presidency heats up.

As of now, two salient facts emerge. First of all, President Ford appears to be in trouble, with the challenge of Ronald Reagan.

All signs point to a sharp tussle, with no winner certain. This alone is trouble for Ford, because an incumbent president would normally be considered a shoo-in for nomination. Ford is not. The groundswell of support for Reagan too apparent to be considered as less than a major threat.

Second fact emerging is that the Democrats are far from narrowing their choice, and it would appear that the normal confusion of that party will continue right up to convention time.

Indeed, the Democratic scene reminds us of the old saying by Will Rogers: "I'm not a member of any organized political party. I'm a Democrat."

Best advice we can give for 1976 would be to ignore the baloney and enjoy the performance.

Year Of Harsh Truth

By JIM BISHOP

This, I am sure, is the year of harsh truth. As a young vigorous Republic, there are deep lines of wear in our face, our cheeks are hollow, the eyes are misty with worryment. America needs a doctor.

In an election year, statesmen repaint the old American dream. They tell us we are great, we are noble, we are strong and we are fearless. It won't scan this time.

The dream has become a nightmare for 8 million men out of work; 31 million on Social Security; scores of millions on welfare and food stamps. Truth hurts; it seldom kills.

Two hundred years ago, the winds were icy, the soil hard. They did not defeat the Puritan farmer. The pitiful Continental Army endured flame and starvation for seven years - and won.

Can we not endure a little of their burdens, their sacrifices, their anxieties and emerge stronger and greater for having done it? If our leaders tell us that we must exist with fewer luxuries, stop borrowing and pay more in taxes, give an honest day's work for an honest day's pay - will it crush our spirit?

The "Guinness Book of World Records" states that the U.S. owes $508 billion. "This amount in dollar bills would make a pile 30,073 miles high, weighing 428,102 tons."

Last year General Mills issued a detailed survey on the American family. Among other things, it found that the American character has changed. One out of two families feels "strongly" or "partially" that it is up to the government to see that everybody has a good job and a good standard of living.

The government was intended to be our servant, not our master. Our parents told us that the world owed us nothing. The future - success or failure - depended upon each of us. Most of those who climbed out of poverty toward security did it over barbed wire with bleeding hands.

I cannot believe that the spirit is dead. I know it is not. The most important legacy in this land - handed down by grimy immigrants from Europe - is the work ethic. If we kill the aspiration that the youngster sorting mail may someday be president of General Motors, we have lost the final battle.

Nor can hope be bought at the drugstore. Your common sense tells you that this is the most blessed of all lands and that our government, no matter how infirm at times, is the most democratic in the world.

I am anything but a prophet of doom. I am the eternal optimist; the only thing strong enough to defeat America is Americans. I feel that my mind must be cracking when I read that half of all our citizens feel that the government owes them a living.

One-fifth of all families turns the TV set off when the news begins. They don't want to hear it. Their nerves twitch with worry. These are the people who do not want to know the truth. They are afraid of it.

Our government still sees its mission as saving the world when it cannot save us. It has been buying friends for 55 years and is shocked when nobody stays bought. It sells millions of tons of wheat to Russia on credit for their starving people. It spent 30 billion a year on Vietnam. And 55,000 lives of our young.

Last year 24 American millionaires, who averaged two-and-a-half million apiece in income, paid not one dollar in taxes. Our oil companies paid eight times as much in taxes to Arab nations as they paid here. Many of our patriots brag about their tax shelters.

We have much more government than we can afford in Washington, in our states and cities. We pay for overlapping services; we pay too much for food, for rent; we anguish over dwindling savings and we are asked to give more to charity.

We need some hard facts this year. Oh boy, do we need them! If, somewhere on the polluted political skyline, a man steps forth and says, "You're going to hate me for this, but the blunt truth is . . ." I am going to vote for him.

Most of all, this is a year in which someone must tell us where we are strong, where we are weak, how much we owe, how much is owed to us, when we are going to cut the leeches from the relief rolls, and how much we must sacrifice to retain our self-respect.

It's not simple. It can be done . . .

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — John Q. Jennings has a message for America in the year 1976, a year in which many important labor contracts will be negotiated.

We are a nation of economic illiterates, says Jennings, excusing nobody. Students, teachers, workers, executives, government officials — all illiterate, he says.

Because we are so ignorant, he continues, we suffer a plague of economic ailments, including inflation, strikes, a shortage of capital for expanding industry, and a variety of needless frictions and frustrations.

Particularly irksome to Jennings, who is a lawyer and consultant, is the misunderstanding of profits. No matter whom he asks, he says, they seem to think profits are greater than they really are. He includes businessmen.

During the first half of 1975, he says, all manufacturing corporations earned a net profit after taxes of $21.7 billion on sales of $513.7 billion, for a return on sales of 4.2 per cent.

Recently he questioned some corporate personnel officers. Analyzing their written responses, he found they believed profit margins were 33 per cent. He wasn't shocked. Almost nobody knows the answer, he says.

He asked the same group what they considered a fair profit. They said 10 per cent. That's more than twice what manufacturers have been making, and seven times the 1.4 per cent earned by retailers.

"Nobody knows the arithmetic," said Jennings, a former mediator of union-management debates and later a corporate executive and head of John Q. Jennings Associates. In the mid-1940s he headed the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Michigan.

"I've never had trouble with unions," he said, adding that he has found union leaders reasonable in their demands when presented the facts. "Give them the facts and they act responsibly," he said.

But, he said, the unions often hear corporations boasting to stockholders while crying to unions. "They're not mind readers; you can't expect them to guess the facts, the truth."

If the information isn't made available to them, he asked, how can you expect workers not to feel they are being denied their share of the pie, considering the false assumptions they and others are inclined to make?

For example, he said, there is a widespread notion that workers don't share the benefits of the economy they help create. Few people know, he maintains, that employees receive 89.6 per cent of the divisible income of a corporation.

The remaining 10.4 per cent, he points out, goes for what is referred to as profits after taxes, but he cites a poll that suggests employees think the division is about 75 per cent profit, 25 per cent compensation.

"The colossal difference between this opinion and the facts constitutes what is probably the greatest economic delusion of the 20th century," Jennings said in an interview.

Well, why not come out with the facts? That's where Jennings comes in. It's his business to convince corporations to release division of income facts that often are hidden not only from workers but investors and even themselves.

It's an old tradition, he maintains. He recalls that in 1946, after 175,000 General Motors employees had been on strike for more than three months, the company finally revealed that the division of income was 90-10.

Shortly thereafter, said Jennings, who was mediator, the United Auto Workers accepted 18.5 cents an hour, "or only five cents more than the 13.5 cents they had been offered before the strike," a reasonable agreement in his opinion.

"I have always thought it a tragedy that GM didn't give them the division of income figure before the strike; had they done so there might never have been a strike," he said.

Jennings has managed to convince some companies to publicize income and other figures "meaningful in the union hall." It makes for peace, he insists.

"I don't blame the unions," he said. The employers hide the information and the government, which has the information, doesn't effectively disseminate it."

MAPLEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Benjamin Franklin served brilliantly as American ambassador to France. Thomas Jefferson, who followed Franklin in the post, was received by the Comte de Vergennes.

"You replace Dr. Franklin?" inquired the French count, as reported by Sid Frank in his "Presidents: Tidbits and Trivia." "No one can replace Franklin," replied Jefferson. "I merely succeed him." This lighthearted book about the 38 presidents was published by Hammond.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I always read of new drugs in England, in Germany and other countries. I wonder why it takes the United States so long to release these proven drugs.

Mr. T.J., W. Va.

Dear Mr. J.:

I cannot compare the rigid requirements of the United States with those of other countries. I am certain that they, too, are extremely careful before releasing new drugs for public consumption.

For a long time I have been impressed by the good relationship that exists between the pharmaceutical manufacturers and the Federal Drug Administration.

It is said that it takes between five and eight years before a new drug or chemical is released to the general market in the United States.

From the time it is created, extensive testing is done with experimental animals. When all safety factors are established, then, and only then, is it carefully tried on selected human beings, to be sure that these potent drugs do not have unexpected toxic effect.

It is understandable that persons anxious about their own illnesses would be tempted by drugs which seem to hold promise of relief.

Yet the wisest and safest rule is to patiently wait until the FDA gives its official sanction.

Every few months I get an attack of cystitis. Is there any way it can be prevented?

Miss D.E., Ore.

Dear Miss E.:

Cystitis is an infection, or inflammation, of the urinary bladder. It occurs commonly in women and young girls.

A germ can enter the bladder from the outside and produce rather typical symptoms. A burning sensation, sometimes pain in the lower abdomen, associated with a feeling of incomplete emptying of the bladder, is common. Frequency of urination and a sense of urgency almost always accompany cystitis.

In rare instances, the bladder can be infected from some primary infection higher up in the urinary tract and in the kidneys.

Examination of the urine, special tests with X-rays and dyes can determine the nature of the infection and often pin-point its origin. Treatment with the antibiotics and sulfa drugs are effective in controlling cystitis and preventing complications.

Good personal hygiene must be taught to all children. Only in this way can infections be prevented from passing from the rectal area to the urinary tract. Repeated bouts of cystitis should not be casually overlooked. They should be tracked down until the exact cause is revealed.

U.S. Mercenary Will Fight For Soviets In Angola War

ROME, Ga. (AP) — A Vietnam veteran who calls himself a "freelance soldier" says he plans to work for the Communists in Angola because the pay is better than for Western-backed factions in the civil war.

The veteran, who refused to allow his name to be used, was quoted Monday by the Rome News-Tribune as saying both the Soviet Union and the United States are recruiting mercenaries to fight in Angola.

There have been reports — denied by the White House — that the Central Intelligence Agency has recruited mercenaries to fight against Soviet-backed forces.

Although it is illegal for a U.S. citizen to fight in the service of another country, the veteran said the practice is widespread.

He said he will receive $2,800 a month and the rank of major for fighting with the Soviet-backed Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola.

"The work will be routine guerilla warfare — the hit and run sort of thing," he was quoted as saying.

In an interview with reporter Betsy Neal, the veteran, who was referred to as "Don," said he was recruited through an advertisement in an Atlanta newspaper.

The manager of classified advertising for the Atlanta Journal and Constitution — the city's two major newspapers — could find no record of such an ad in the past six weeks. He said federal regulations would prohibit any ad specifying men or young persons for jobs.

"Some of my associates on the West Coast say that American recruiters are coming to their door and asking them to sign up for service," the man called Don was quoted as saying.

He told Miss Neal the alleged American recruiters are not identifying the groups they represent but are recruiting in the name of Holden Roberto, head of the U.S.-backed Front for the National Liberation of Angola.

Miss Neal said she was shown documents and letters supporting his claims that he had been recruited by the Soviets to fight in Angola and that he fought for them in Chile in 1969 and 1970.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

On New Year's Day I watched the Cottonbowl Festival Parade on TV and was particularly impressed with one band which used a unique Bicentennial theme of seven American flags of various stages of our country's development at the front of the band. It was a beautiful sight!

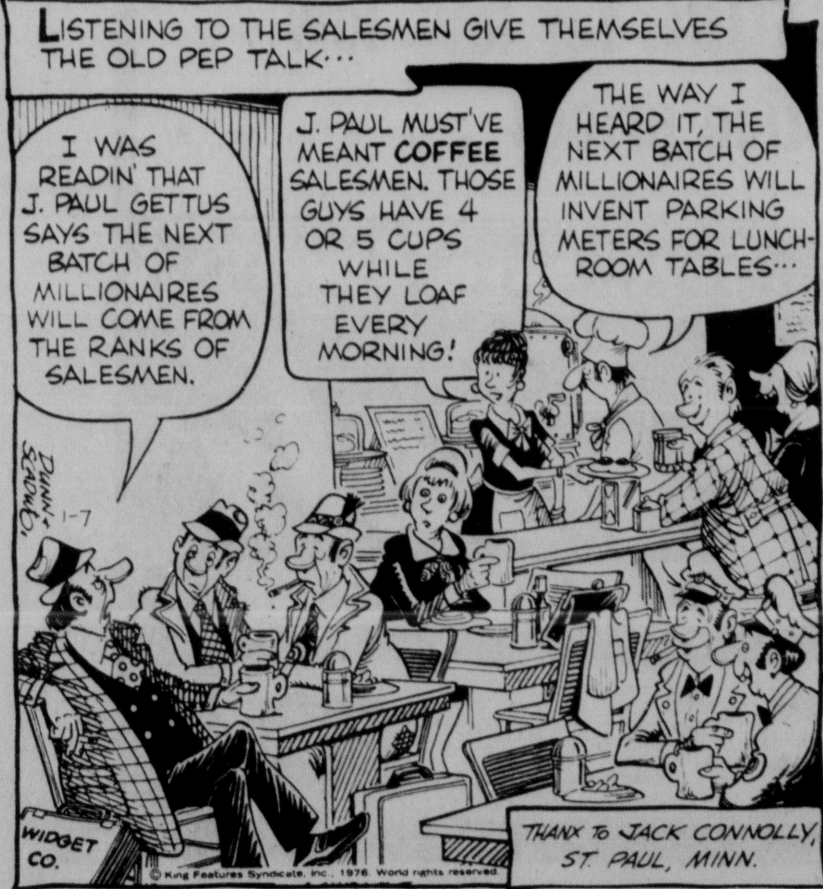

An idea came to me of how beautiful and patriotically stirring it would be if our own spectators in Circleville and others could see the CHS and CJHS Bands marching with similar colors at their front. If the directors and school administration are receptive to the idea, several organizations and businesses may be eager to assist by purchasing the flags, staffs, and carrying belts. Some other organizations and businesses may volunteer to outfit the necessary additional student flag bearers in appropriate uniforms. I'm certain that the added flag bearers may readily be recruited.

Since each band already has a current 50 star American Flag and an Ohio flag, it would appear that only six additional flags, staffs, and belts would need to be purchased for each band — along with the additional flag bearer uniforms.

What a stirring sight it would be to see eight flags (seven American and one Ohio) waving in the breeze at the front of each of our local bands during this Bicentennial Year and perhaps more years! What a unit of red, white and blue to emphasize our patriotism as the bands parade proudly by to the tune of stirring march music!

Sincerely,
TRUMAN N. EBERLY

A Page Of Opinion

And Away We Go!

Well, folks, 1976 is here. You can tell it by the flood of cheap bicentennial, junk being offered for sale, and by the cry of the politician in the wilds.

Both can be expected and both will continue through the year. Most interesting of the two will be the political wars as the campaign for the presidency heats up.

As of now, two salient facts emerge. First of all, President Ford appears to be in trouble, with the challenge of Ronald Reagan.

All signs point to a sharp tussle, with no winner certain. This alone is trouble for Ford, because an incumbent president would normally be considered a shoo-in for nomination. Ford is not. The groundswell of support for Reagan too apparent to be considered as less than a major threat.

Second fact emerging is that the Democrats are far from narrowing their choice, and it would appear that the normal confusion of that party will continue right up to convention time.

Indeed, the Democratic scene reminds us of the old saying by Will Rogers: "I'm not a member of any organized political party. I'm a Democrat."

Best advice we can give for 1976 would be to ignore the baloney and enjoy the performance.

Year Of Harsh Truth

By JIM BISHOP

This, I am sure, is the year of harsh truth. As a young vigorous Republic, there are deep lines of wear in our face, our cheeks are hollow, the eyes are misty with worry. America needs a doctor.

In an election year, statesmen repaint the old American dream. They tell us we are great, we are noble, we are strong and we are fearless. It won't scan this time.

The dream has become a nightmare for 8 million men out of work; 31 million on Social Security; scores of millions on welfare and food stamps. Truth hurts; it seldom kills.

Two hundred years ago, the winds were icy, the soil hard. They did not defeat the Puritan farmer. The pitiful Continental Army endured flame and starvation for seven years - and won.

Can we not endure a little of their burdens, their sacrifices, their anxieties and emerge stronger and greater for having done it? If our leaders tell us that we must exist with fewer luxuries, stop borrowing and pay more in taxes, give an honest day's work for an honest day's pay - will it crush our spirit?

The "Guinness Book of World Records" states that the U.S. owes $508 billion. "This amount in dollar bills would make a pile 30,073 miles high, weighing 428,102 tons."

Last year General Mills issued a detailed survey on the American family. Among other things, it found that the American character has changed. One out of two families feels "strongly" or "partially" that it is up to the government to see that everybody has a good job and a good standard of living.

The government was intended to be our servant, not our master. Our parents told us that the world owed us nothing. The future - success or failure - depended upon each of us. Most of those who climbed out of poverty toward security did it over barbed wire with bleeding hands.

I cannot believe that the spirit is dead. I know it is not. The most important legacy in this land - handed down by grimy immigrants from Europe - is the work ethic. If we kill the aspiration that the youngster sorting mail may someday be president of General Motors, we have lost the final battle.

Nor can hope be bought at the drugstore. Your common sense tells you that this is the most blessed of all lands and that our government, no matter how infirm at times, is the most democratic in the world.

I am anything but a prophet of doom. I am the eternal optimist; the only thing strong enough to defeat America is Americans. I feel that my mind must be cracking when I read that half of all our citizens feel that the government owes them a living.

One-fifth of all families turns the TV set off when the news begins. They don't want to hear it. Their nerves twitch with worry. These are the people who do not want to know the truth. They are afraid of it.

Our government still sees its mission as saving the world when it cannot save us. It has been buying friends for 55 years and is shocked when nobody stays bought. It sells millions of tons of wheat to Russia on credit for their starving people. It spent 30 billion a year on Vietnam. And 55,000 lives of our young.

Last year 24 American millionaires, who averaged two-and-a-half million apiece in income, paid not one dollar in taxes. Our oil companies paid eight times as much in taxes to Arab nations as they paid here. Many of our patriots brag about their tax shelters.

We have much more government than we can afford in Washington, in our states and cities. We pay for overlapping services; we pay too much for food, for rent; we anguish over dwindling savings and we are asked to give more to charity.

We need some hard facts this year. Oh boy, do we need them! If, somewhere on the polluted political skyline, a man steps forth and says, "You're going to hate me for this, but the blunt truth is . . ." I am going to vote for him.

Most of all, this is a year in which someone must tell us where we are strong, where we are weak, how much we owe, how much is owed to us, when we are going to cut the leeches from the relief rolls, and how much we must sacrifice to retain our self-respect.

It's not simple. It can be done . . .

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — John Q. Jennings has a message for America in the year 1976, a year in which many important labor contracts will be negotiated.

We are a nation of economic illiterates, says Jennings, excusing nobody. Students, teachers, workers, executives, government officials — all illiterate, he says.

Because we are so ignorant, he continues, we suffer a plague of economic ailments, including inflation, strikes, a shortage of capital for expanding industry, and a variety of needless frictions and frustrations.

Particularly irksome to Jennings, who is a lawyer and consultant, is the misunderstanding of profits. No matter whom he asks, he says, they seem to think profits are greater than they really are. He includes businessmen.

During the first half of 1975, he says, all manufacturing corporations earned a net profit after taxes of $21.7 billion on sales of $513.7 billion, for a return on sales of 4.2 per cent.

Recently he questioned some corporate personnel officers. Analyzing their written responses, he found they believed profit margins were 33 per cent. He wasn't shocked. Almost nobody knows the answer, he says.

He asked the same group what they considered a fair profit. They said 10 per cent. That's more than twice what manufacturers have been making, and seven times the 1.4 per cent earned by retailers.

"Nobody knows the arithmetic," said Jennings, a former mediator of union-management debates and later a corporate executive and head of John Q. Jennings Associates. In the mid-1940s he headed the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Michigan.

"I've never had trouble with unions," he said, adding that he has found union leaders reasonable in their demands when presented the facts. "Give them the facts and they act responsibly," he said.

But, he said, the unions often hear corporations boasting to stockholders while crying to unions. "They're not mind readers; you can't expect them to guess the facts, the truth."

If the information isn't made available to them, he asked, how can you expect workers not to feel they are being denied their share of the pie, considering the false assumptions they and others are inclined to make?

For example, he said, there is a widespread notion that workers don't share the benefits of the economy they help create. Few people know, he maintains, that employees receive 89.6 per cent of the divisible income of a corporation.

The remaining 10.4 per cent, he points out, goes for what is referred to as profits after taxes, but he cites a poll that suggests employees think the division is about 75 per cent profit, 25 per cent compensation.

"The colossal difference between this opinion and the facts constitutes what is probably the greatest economic delusion of the 20th century," Jennings said in an interview.

Well, why not come out with the facts? That's where Jennings comes in. It's his business to convince corporations to release division of income facts that often are hidden not only from workers but investors and even themselves.

It's an old tradition, he maintains. He recalls that in 1946, after 175,000 General Motors employees had been on strike for more than three months, the company finally revealed that the division of income was 90-10.

Shortly thereafter, said Jennings, who was mediator, the United Auto Workers accepted 18.5 cents an hour, "or only five cents more than the 13.5 cents they had been offered before the strike," a reasonable agreement in his opinion.

"I have always thought it a tragedy that GM didn't give them the division of income figure before the strike; had they done so there might never have been a strike," he said.

Jennings has managed to convince some companies to publicize income and other figures "meaningful in the union hall." It makes for peace, he insists.

"I don't blame the unions," he said. The employers hide the information and the government, which has the information, doesn't effectively disseminate it."

Dinner Precedes Business Meeting Of Homemakers Club

A carry-in dinner preceded the December meeting of Krafty Ladies Home Extension Club recently in the home of Mrs. Gloria Miller, 2000 Sioux Drive, Logan Elm Village.

Roll call was answered by members telling what they do to bring happiness to others at Christmas. Present were Barbara Welsh, Gloria Miller, Alice Dennis, Diana Sykes and one guest, Erma Ward.

During the brief business session members were reminded that Alice Dennis had volunteered to do babysitting and Diana Sykes will attend the Leader Training Session at the Jan. 5, meeting of Home Council. Discussion was held on ideas for a future community project. Erma Ward and Alice Dennis volunteered to contact the rest homes for suggestions as to their needs which can be supplied by the club.

Reports were given on "Colon Cancer" and "Child Abuse" by Alice Dennis and Gloria Miller, respectively. They recently attended an all-day workshop at Washington C. H. where these topics were covered.

The next club meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m., Jan. 15, at the home of Barbara Welsh, 222 Mingo St.

Naval Wife Let Her 'Warrior' Run Free

DEAR ABBY: You recently published a letter from the wife of a military man. (She went snooping through his things while he was away and discovered love letters from three different women.)

I have been a naval wife since age 19, and I've never questioned my husband about possible extramarital affairs. In fact, I've said, "Don't tell me. I don't want to know."

I'll never know why some women punish themselves by trying to find out things that they know will hurt them.

From where I have sat, women on shore did not behave any better than men on shore leave. I should know. I was 80 last week.

I welcomed my "warrior" home with open arms every time he could get home. There was never a doubt in my mind about where I stood with him. He loved me, and he let me know it.

I cannot understand these holier-than-thou wives. If a woman loves a man, that's that, and if there were other women in his life, what would she gain by knowing?

My warrior died two months ago, and I miss him terribly. I was lucky. He was the one man I loved. And I loved him enough to let him go free. Whatever he did away from me was HIS business.

ADMIRAL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I hereby nominate you the "Matron Saint of the Women's Liberation Movement." (And you'll get a lot of votes from men, too.)

DEAR ABBY: I have three daughters. The two eldest are in their 30's and are respectively married. But the youngest, who is 23, has been shacking up with her boyfriend for nearly a year.

At Christmastime I sent gifts to the two oldest ones and their husband's, but I purposely did not send anything

Dinner Precedes Business Meeting Of Homemakers Club

A carry-in dinner preceded the December meeting of Krafty Ladies Home Extension Club recently in the home of Mrs. Gloria Miller, 2000 Sioux Drive, Logan Elm Village.

Roll call was answered by members telling what they do to bring happiness to others at Christmas. Present were Barbara Welsh, Gloria Miller, Alice Dennis, Diana Sykes and guest, Erma Ward.

During the brief business session members were reminded that Alice Dennis had volunteered to do babysitting and Diana Sykes will attend the Leader Training Session at the Jan. 5, meeting of Home Council. Discussion was held on ideas for a future community project. Erma Ward and Alice Dennis volunteered to contact the rest homes for suggestions as to their needs which can be supplied by the club.

Reports were given on "Colon Cancer" and "Child Abuse" by Alice Dennis and Gloria Miller, respectively. They recently attended an all-day workshop at Washington C. H. where these topics were covered.

The next club meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m., Jan. 15, at the home of Barbara Welsh, 222 Mingo St.

Engagement Is Announced

CHICAGO (AP) — Seven Ohio postmaster appointments have been announced.
They are Kenneth D. Matthers, Belpre; Patrick A. D'Andrea, Bergholz; Albert E. Callihan, Bluffton; John H. Smith, Felicity; Rufus D.

Silvus, McConnellsville; Richard R. Mandell, Maumee, and Neil R. Skelly, Montpelier.
The U.S. Postal Service said postmasters are selected on merit, based on recommendations by a national or regional management selection board.

Burley Tobacco Prices Increase

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP)—Burley tobacco prices at Ripley Monday surged upward to their highest point since early December as sales resumed after a holiday break.
The strong showing sent the average to $108.13 per hundredweight.

A total of 498,214 pounds were sold for $538,743.30.
Ft. Amanda in Auglaize County, Ohio, north of St. Marys, was built in 1812 for Gen. Harrison by Col. Poague, who named it after his wife.

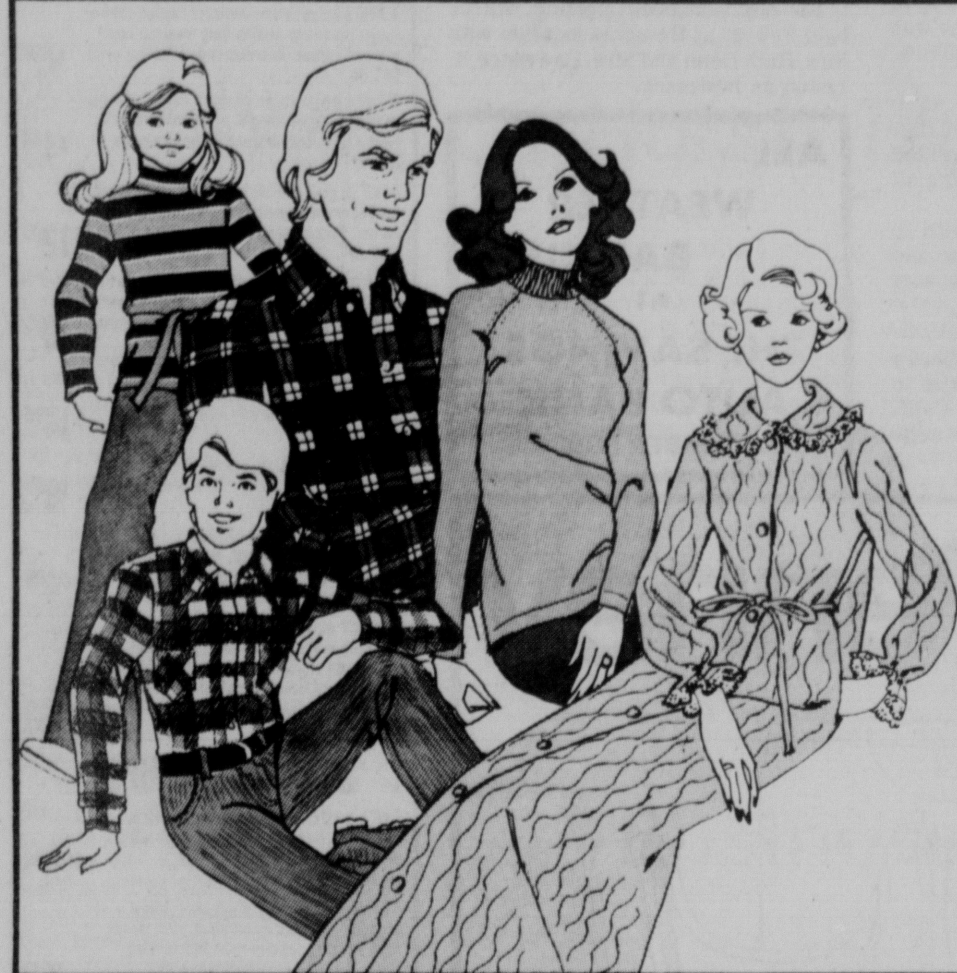

Campaign Cash Measure Filed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — All elected state officials would be eligible to collect campaign expense money from a special fund under a bill filed Monday in the Indiana Senate and House.
The fund would be financed by $1 voluntary individual income tax

checkoff.
Another campaign bill filed Monday would limit expenditures for either the general or primary elections to 20 cents per qualified voter or $100,000 for a statewide office, $25,000 for any office involving more than one county and $10,000 for a single-county office.

201 LANCASTER PIKE

CHICAGO (AP) — Seven Ohio postmaster appointments have been announced.
They are Kenneth D. Matthers, Belpre; Patrick A. D'Andrea, Bergholz; Albert E. Callihan, Bluffton; John H. Smith, Felicity; Rufus D.

Silvus, McConnellsville; Richard R. Mandell, Maumee, and Neil R. Skelly, Montpelier.
The U.S. Postal Service said postmasters are selected on merit, based on recommendations by a national or regional management selection board.

Burley Tobacco Prices Increase

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP)—Burley tobacco prices at Ripley Monday surged upward to their highest point since early December as sales resumed after a holiday break.
The strong showing sent the average to $108.13 per hundredweight.

A total of 498,214 pounds were sold for $538,743.30.

Ft. Amanda in Auglaize County, Ohio, north of St. Marys, was built in 1812 for Gen. Harrison by Col. Poague, who named it after his wife.

Campaign Cash Measure Filed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — All elected state officials would be eligible to collect campaign expense money from a special fund under a bill filed Monday in the Indiana Senate and House.
The fund would be financed by $1 voluntary individual income tax

checkoff.
Another campaign bill filed Monday would limit expenditures for either the general or primary elections to 20 cents per qualified voter or $100,000 for a statewide office, $25,000 for any office involving more than one county and $10,000 for a single-county office.

Hoosier Assembly Eyes Reappraisal

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 1976 legislature, off to a slow but smooth start, was ready to settle down to business today with the first committee hearing on a proposed delay of the 1976 real estate reassessment. Postponement of the revaluation is one of the hottest issues of the election-year session.

Experts predict the reassessment — first since 1969 — could increase some property tax bills as much as 50 per cent. But even if the reassessment proceeds as scheduled, the increase would not show up until 1979.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Most of Ohio was covered with snow Wednesday with some northern areas shoveling out from under as much as 5 inches.

The snow began falling early Wednesday following a rather mild night and heavy snow warnings were in effect for northern counties where accumulation was expected to reach 5 inches.

A travelers advisory was in effect for the central and southwestern sections, where 1 to 3 inches were expected, and a winter storm watch was in effect in east central and southwestern counties.

Arctic air returned to the state Wednesday afternoon plunging overnight lows to zero to 10 degrees around the state.

The cause for Ohio's unstable weather was a very large mass of cold Arctic air which covered all of western Canada and extended south over the plains states and the upper Great Lakes early Wednesday.

By Wednesday morning, the front was expected to move just east of the Appalachians, keeping afternoon temperatures in Ohio in the teens.

Rate Hike Faces Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — A temporary rate hike that could boost utility bills 25 per cent in 13 Ohio communities has been approved by the Federal Power Commission.

The increase, which takes effect immediately, was requested by Ohio Power Co.

A hearing on the request has been scheduled tentatively for May.

The communities have until April 6 to present arguments to the commission. The company has until April 20.

The communities involved are Carey, Arcadia, Bloomdale, Plymouth, Cygnet, Greenwich, Republica, Shiloh, Ohio City, St. Clairsville, Wapakoneta, Sycamore and Wharton.

Rate Hike Faces Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — A temporary rate hike that could boost utility bills 25 per cent in 13 Ohio communities has been approved by the Federal Power Commission.

The increase, which takes effect immediately, was requested by Ohio Power Co.

A hearing on the request has been scheduled tentatively for May. The communities have until April 6 to present arguments to the commission. The company has until April 20.

The communities involved are Carey, Arcadia, Bloomdale, Plymouth, Cygnet, Greenwich, Republica, Shiloh, Ohio City, St. Clairsville, Wapakoneta, Sycamore and Wharton.

Man Being Held On Murder Charge

ORRVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Clinton Osborn, 44, was charged Tuesday with murder in the shooting death Monday of Malcolm Hershey, 44, Wayne County sheriff's officers reported. Officers said Hershey was shot in the left thigh at his trailer park north of the city and then bled to death.

The Harrison Township Emergency Squad made the following runs this past week:

Dec. 29, traffic accident on Walnut Creek Pike, south of Perrill Road, one injured; examined Ralph Franks of Ashville, difficulty in breathing; Dec. 31, examined Ralph Franks of Ashville, difficulty in breathing; Jan. 1, transported Tom Fout of South Bloomfield to Berger Hospital, injured in street brawl; report of a man in Scioto River west of Ohio State Patrol Post 65, man had been rescued by family when squad arrived;

Jan. 2, transported Minnie Strunk of Ashville to Berger Hospital, illness; transported Rush Workman of Route 1, Lockbourne to Mt. Carmel Hospital, West, illness; examined Harrison Bowles of Ashville, difficulty in breathing;

Jan. 3, transported Shirley Murphy of Florida to Berger Hospital, illness. The Volunteer Firemen answered a call on Dec. 29 to the home of Robert Featheringham, Main Street, Ashville, overheated furnace, no damage.

The TV Variety 4-H Club will be having a paper drive on Saturday. They will be collecting in Ashville on that day and if you live in the surrounding area and wish to contribute your papers you are asked to call the Robert List Family at 983-2742 and they will be glad to see that the papers are picked up. The Ashville residents are asked to place their papers on their porches or front steps for pick-up.

A Ward family holiday dinner was held recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delano Younkin, Cromley Street, Ashville.

Those attending were the Rev. Martin Younkin and Miss Carolyn McClung of Dallas, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Brian Hope, Michael, Mark, Michelle and Marilyn Chapman of Delaware; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ward, Mrs. Doretta Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Massie, April, Melody and Amy, all of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ward, Roger, Tony, Angie and Sheena, all of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Dorothy Taes, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Ward, Bobby and Becky, all of Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bickel, Jay, David, Jonathan and Sarah of Pickerington, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Younkin, Tamara and Tod of Lockbourne; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Giese, Mary Kathryn, Judith Ann and Timothy Paul of Arvada.

Palmetto Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will meet in the Ashville K. P. Hall on Jan. 14 at 8 p.m. Installation of officers for the coming year will be held and the Knight Rank will be conferred on Gerald Weiler, Mike Cummins, Ken Cummins and Brent Roof. All members are urged to attend.

The Religious Film, "Thief In The Night," will be shown at the Duval Community Church on Saturday, at 7:30 p.m.

This movie is based on what the Holy Bible states about the rapture and what happens following it. Everyone in the community is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Evelyn Zwyer of Duval is a medical patient in Doctors Hospital, North, in Columbus.

The Walnut Township P.T.O. will meet at the school on Monday, at 7:30 p.m. A gym program will be presented by students of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades under the direction of Don Stir.

Mrs. Addie Lockard underwent surgery this week in Berger Hospital in Circleville.

Results of the Ashville Belles Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League for Jan. 6 were: high single game, Judy Chaffin, 235; high three-game series, Jill Roese, 595; high team game, Lovely Lady No. 1, 802; high team series, Lovely Lady No. 1, 2087.

Mrs. Mildred Morrison underwent surgery on Tuesday at the Mercy Medical Center in Springfield, Ohio 45506.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most of Ohio was covered with snow Wednesday with some northern areas shoveling out from under as much as 5 inches.

The snow began falling early Wednesday following a rather mild night and heavy snow warnings were in effect for northern counties where accumulation was expected to reach 5 inches.

A travelers advisory was in effect for the central and southwestern sections, where 1 to 3 inches were expected, and a winter storm watch was in effect in east central and southeastern counties.

Arctic air returned to the state Wednesday afternoon plunging overnight lows to zero to 10 degrees around the state.

The cause for Ohio's unstable weather was a very large mass of cold Arctic air which covered all of western Canada and extended south over the plains states and the upper Great Lakes early Wednesday.

By Wednesday morning, the front was expected to move just east of the Appalachians, keeping afternoon temperatures in Ohio in the teens.

POULTRY POINTERS

Poultry is one of the most economical and versatile meats found in today's supermarket. At today's prices, poultry is cheaper than it was 20 years ago. In the past, poultry was served only for special occasions. There was fried chicken for Sunday dinner, roasted turkey for Thanksgiving and roasted goose for Christmas. But poultry is too good to save for special occasions. Nutritionally, poultry has a protein value that no other meat exceeds and few equal. With the hundreds of recipes calling for poultry products, it is easy to serve poultry many ways. To help consumers know more about the poultry that they buy, we have written a booklet called "Poultry Pointers". In it our consumer consultant explains how to buy, store and cook poultry. Poultry grades, nutritional values and types of poultry products are also discussed. For a free copy of this booklet, send in the coupon below.

MOUNDBUILDERS — Harry Payne (left), program chairman, introduces Dr. Charles Hedges (right) who was guest speaker at the meeting of the Circleville Kiwanis Moundbuilders 7 a.m. Tuesday at Pickaway Arms. Dr. Hedges discussed the warning signals of pre heart attack victims and the five most common causes of heart attacks. Visiting Circleville Kiwanians were: Ray Cundiff, Bill Rosengarten, Ed Farynowski, Forest Croman, Dave Johnson, Charles Ried, Dave Scheible and Tom Sharrett; Frank Hudson of the Ashville Kiwanis was also present as well as guest Harry E. Seur Kamp.

YMCA Notes, News

Your Pickaway County Family YMCA has much to offer this Winter quarter, both from the standpoint of physical exercises and conditioning to various skills and crafts.

If you have not received a brochure on the class offerings, call or stop by the YMCA for a copy.

Adults are signing up for guitar lessons on Monday evenings. Leighton McFerren teaches both continuing and advanced and also youth plus adults. Beginning bridge, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Knox, is scheduled for Monday evenings, 7:30 to 9 p.m. This is a basic bridge course on contract bridge using the Goren point count for bidding.

Slimnastics, always a popular course, and more so after the holidays, will fill up fast. Classes are offered for women on Mondays and Wednesday from 9:15 to 10:15 p.m. and also on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10 to 11 a.m. A special class of mild exercise called Rhythmic Body Conditioning, will be held on Thursdays from 9 to 10 a.m. for a twelve-week period.

Basic fit and sew with knits will be instructed by Mrs. Ned Elliott. In this course you can learn to cut, fit, and sew with knits and complete a three-piece outfit. Also in the sewing line, Mrs. Marge Wolford will teach beginning sewing. Begin your sewing in the proper way, as taught by Mrs. Wolford, a former home extension agent.

Adult Tap dancing will be offered for

Workers Unhappy With Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Personnel Board of Review has received a flood of appeals from state employees unhappy with their new job classifications.

A pay bill passed by the legislature last year required reclassification of about 88,000 state employees, state university workers and county employees whose salaries are reimbursed by the state. The measure also provided minimum pay hikes for those employees of 20 cents per hour.

The board had received more than 100 appeals by Monday afternoon. Employees have 30 days to appeal their classifications to the board of review under state law.

The board has asked that each appeal include the employee's name, home address, department or agency, the job description being appealed and the description desired and a brief reason for the appeal.

Appeal forms are being provided by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation's office of fiscal management, The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) and the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association (OCSEA).

The OCSEA advises its members that the board has three options in an appeal: Reduction of the employee classification, upgrading it, or retaining the existing classification.

State Administrative Services Director Richard L. Krabach said last month that he expected 10,000 to 12,000 appeals because employees would not understand the reclassifications.

Mark Downing Named Assistant Prosecutor

Mark S. Downing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Downing, 163 W. Mound St. assumed the position of one of the assistant prosecutors of Monroe County, Mich., January 1.

Mark graduated from the University of Toledo College of Law in June. He was admitted to the bar in Michigan in October. Since August, 1975 Mark has been employed by Sigal and Seelgson, attorneys at law, in Ann Arbor, Mich. and has been assisting in the legal aid clinic at the federal penitentiary in Milan, Mich.

Humane Society Sponsoring Logo Contest

The Pickaway County Humane Society is stimulating public interest in its organization and activities by sponsoring a logo contest.

A logo is a combination of words, letters, and/or symbols used to identify an organization. It will be used on all Humane Society literature.

The contest will run from January 5 through February 13. The winner will be awarded a $25 savings bond. Rules of the contest can be obtained at the County Auditor's office. Entries will be displayed in the Courthouse after judging.

Ongoing activities of the Humane Society include the "Pet of the Week" and public education programs. Pickaway County Humane Officers pick up 40 - 80 dogs each week. During 1975, 2314 dogs were taken to the animal shelter. This is one of the problems that needs a solution.

If you are interested in the organization or wish to contribute ideas, please call 474-7165.

Big Bear Increases Sales, Earnings

Wayne E. Brown, president of Big Bear Stores Company reported consolidated sales and other revenue for the 13 week period ended November 29, 1975 of $81,621,212 up 9 per cent compared with $74,887,002 in the same period a year ago.

Net earnings for the period amounted to $2,082,341 or $1.66 per share compared to a year ago earnings of $1,989,483 or $1.58 per share, an increase of 4.7 per cent. Six cents per share of this increase is the result of an Internal Revenue adjustment.

For the 39 week period ended November 29, sales were up 9 per cent to $235,372,352 as compared to $215,913,215 for the same period a year ago. Net earnings for the period amounted to $4,918,799 or $3.91 per share, an increase of 16.3 per cent over the $4,228,056 or $3.36 per share a year ago.

Chamber President Names 1976 Committee Chairmen

Committee chairmen for 1976 were named Tuesday by Chamber of Commerce president Larry Plum. Plum made his announcements at the monthly meeting of the Chamber's Board of Directors.

Following is a list of the committee chairmen: Agri-business, Chaney Vance; Area Development, Richard Gerhardt; Budget and Finance, Asa Elsea; City-County Planning, Ned Harden; Education, Jim Butler; Health, Dr. Nancy Lu Conrad; Legislative, Tom Tootle; Membership, Bill Bennett; Public Relations, Nelson Embrey; Retail Merchants, Dick Davis; Safety, Ed Bohenko.

Harden reported to the board that his committee is planning to meet with the local real estate association and the bar association. He also advised the board of the Pickaway County Community Resource Development Seminar on Jan. 14 and 21 at Pickaway Arms.

Representing the legislative committee, Tootle reported that Myrl Shoemaker will speak to the group on Jan. 19.

The safety committee is promoting a safety contest. Bohenko also reported that he was planning a monthly safety program.

After the committee reports were given, Plum continued with the business before the board and reported that negotiations were underway between the affected local industries and the N & W Railway. According to the Chamber president, if the railway company had abandoned the railroads as originally planned, three of the local industries would have been forced to leave this area.

Plum also presented the board with a request from the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce seeking support for the building of an atomic plant at Piketon. The local Chamber board voted to go on record as supporting the Piketon site for the plant. An alternate site in Alabama is being considered but would be funded by 60 per cent foreign monies with 60 per cent of the energy being supplied to foreign countries. If the plant is placed at Piketon, 100 per cent of the energy will stay in the United States.

In conclusion, the president discussed his plan for member recruitment and a proposed membership drive. He also announced that vice president Steve Stevenson would be in charge of contacting those members whose dues are delinquent.

Chamber of Commerce Week is Jan. 14-21 ending with the Annual meeting. Dr. Conrad, in charge of the annual meeting, reported that most of the plans had been completed. She asked for volunteers to help set up tables and chairs in the 4-H and Grange Building. Of the 400 tickets printed for the meeting and banquet, there are only 58 left to sell.

GORDON'S

Main and Scioto

Congratulations to two Clark's Lake residents, students of Westfall High School, who were recently accepted into the Ohio State Bicentennial Choir, a group composed of 200 students from schools all over Ohio.

The students were selected through auditions and will sing at Ohio State University's Mershon Auditorium on Feb. 6 for the Ohio Music Education Association. The students are Cathy Cochran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cochran, and Paula Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vincent.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vincent and granddaughter Paula Vincent visited with Mrs. Agnes Matthes at the Norworth Convalescent Center on Monday and found her feeling well and cheerful. She enjoyed the holidays, remembrances from her friends and neighbors, and appreciated so much the cards received at Christmas.

Mrs. Charles Nance was among Christmas Eve guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Riddle. Mrs. Nance spent Christmas Day with her son Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nance and family of Columbus, and was their Christmas overnight guest.

The Reverend and Mrs. Charles W. Hill and daughters were New Year's Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Spangler and family.

LE Braves Sink Lakers, 74-47

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Jeff Reichelderfer almost melted the hoop as he poured 36 points, 26 in the first half, through the rim and led Logan Elm to a 74-47 win over visiting Millersport, despite the fact that the Lakers were on top at the end of the first quarter, Tuesday night at the Spangler Memorial gym in a Mid State League contest.

The victory left the Braves with the only unblemished mark in the Mid State, 5-0, and leaves them perched on the top of the heap in the race for the league crown.

Reichelderfer seemed to own the basket as he hit 12 of 18 from the field and 12 of 14 from the charity stripe to compile his total. He continually intimidated and overpowered the Laker defenders as he drove for bucket after bucket.

Steve Rawlins came off the bench to add eight points to the Braves cause, Mike Miller hooped seven, Chuck Cave hit six, Scott Allen and Lonnie Maxson each tallied four, Randy Strous had three while Mark Skinner, Dave Dean and Mike Patrick each netted two.

Bob Weldon led Millersport with 12 markers, Alex Wilhelmsen added nine, Chad Dupler and Ruby Helle each tallied seven, Brad Smith hit for six, Ed Keller netted four and Steve Pierce tallied two.

The Braves connected on 30 of 71 from the floor for 42 per cent and converted 14 of 23 foul shots for 61 per cent.

Millersport shot 17 of 47 from the hardwood for 36 per cent and was 13 of 21 for 62 per cent at the charity stripe.

Logan Elm dominated the boards as the Braves pulled down 40 rebounds while Millersport managed to grab 21 missed shots. Cave and Dean were the big board men for the Braves while Dupler and Wilhelmsen were tops for the Lakers.

Both teams were guilty of miscues as Millersport committed 28 turnovers and Logan Elm was guilty 22 times.

The Braves had 19 fouls called against them in the contest and the Lakers drew 23.

Millersport, who hasn't won a game this season, shocked the Logan Elm fans as they came right out in the first quarter showing that they came to play. Despite the fact that they committed 11 turnovers in the period, when the buzzer sounded the scoreboard showed—Millersport 21 and Logan Elm 19.

The big factor in the canto for the Lakers was that they stepped to the foul line nine times and netted all nine shots.

Eleven points by Reichelderfer and a couple of baskets by Maxson kept the Braves in range during the canto.

But Logan Elm began to take charge in the second frame and with Reichelderfer leading the Braves on the warpath the half ended with Logan Elm holding a 42-31 edge.

Miller and Reichelderfer both found themselves in foul trouble early in the third canto and went to the bench.

However, Steve Rawlins came off the bench and hit a pair of buckets along with Allen and Dean also netting a basket to help the Braves maintain a 52-39 advantage at the end of the frame.

Coach Asa Bradbury went to the bench with five minutes left in the final period and the Braves showed their desire to perform as they dominated the game the rest of the way to send the crowd home happy.

The reserve game was almost unbelievable as Logan Elm crushed Millersport, 60-24, to run its season record to 6-2.

The Lakers failed to score a point until 3:07 of the second and trailed 27-6 at haltime. The Braves were holding a large margin, 44-15, at the end of the third canto and were home free in the fourth frame.

Jeff Collins and Todd Young each had 10 points to pace Logan Elm, Mike Patrick added eight, Tony Crist and John Mettler each had six, Mark Martin hooped five, Eric Maxson, Doug Woods and Marlon Luckhart all had four, Bruce Carter netted two and Rock Huggins tallied one. Mike Washburn had eight for Millersport.

Logan Elm is now 6-2 for the season and 5-0 in Mid State action. The Braves will travel to Bloom Carroll Friday night to meet the always dangerous Bulldogs in a league contest.

SUMMARY

LOGAN ELM — Cave, 3-0-6; Reichelderfer, 12-12-36; Allen, 2-0-4; Miller, 3-1-7; Skinner, 1-0-2; Rawlins, 4-0-8; Maxson, 2-0-4; Dean, 1-0-2; Strous, 1-1-3; Patrick, 1-0-2. Totals, 30-14-74.

All County Cagers in League Action

Westfall will see court action Friday and Saturday while Logan Elm and Teays Valley will be on the hardwoods on Friday night.

The Mustangs will host Scioto Valley Conference leaders Zane Trace Friday and will also be home Saturday when Amanda-Clearcreek invades Mustang Country.

The Pioneers are currently leading the conference with a record of 6-0 and have a 9-1 mark for the season.

Jeff Wright, Emmitt Wallace, Terry French and Tim Britton have been

The Circleville ninth grade basketball team lost to a tall, talented J. A. Smith of Chillicothe, 68-35, and the eighth grade won, 30-29 over J. A. Smith.

The J. A. Smith frosh are undefeated. They rolled to a 28-14 first quarter lead, a 42-20 halftime edge and a 57-27 third quarter margin.

All five starters for the winners scored in double figures, led by John Herrstein with 14 points.

For Circleville, Pete Harrison notched an even dozen, Richard Elsea scored nine, Tim Pontious five, Jeff Strawser four, Don Hill and Pat Poorman two each and Brian Sealock one. The Tiger frosh have a 2-3 record and host Washington C. H. 4:45 p.m. Thursday at Mill Street Gym.

Eighth grade coach Ty Ankrom credited a fine team effort for the one point win over Smith. The Tigers led 14-6 at the end of the first period, 23-16 after two and 28-22 after three.

Anthony Smith led the locals with 12 markers, Mark Morrison scored 10, Mike Harrison four, Brad Willoughby and Scott Allen two each. Ankrom also commended Keith Lewis for a fine job on the boards, Brad Allen for a good floor game and Jeff Lanman for a good all around effort.

The Tiger eighth grade will travel to Washington C. H. Thursday.

Little Mustangs Split Contests

Westfall's seventh grade basketball team defeated Mt. Sterling, 29-22, while the Mustang eighth grade team fell to their Mt. Sterling opponent, 52-35.

The Mustang seventh graders, 9-2, led at the end of each quarter 6-2, 12-4 and 22-8.

Jerry Mowery led all scorers with 19 points, Lonnie Puckett and Greg Beard added four each and Matt Gibson rounded out the Westfall scoring with two. Richardson led Mt. Sterling scorers with nine points.

Westfall's eighth graders, 0-8, trailed Mt. Sterling at the end of each quarter 15-6, 27-24 and 38-21.

D. Brown of Mt. Sterling led all scorers with 21 markers, Gray had 15 and Griffith tallied 12 for the winners.

Shorty Roberts led the Westfall scoring with 12 points, Dave Roush had eight, Mike Whitten netted six, Lee Bowser hooped three and Tracy Puckett and Chuck Sollars added two each.

Both of Westfall's teams will be back in action on Jan. 13 when they travel to Logan Elm.

putting points on the board for Zane Trace.

But the Mustangs of coach Mike Eckle are really coming on and can be dangerous on their own range. Kevin Reid and Chris Riddle have been ripping the nets at a pretty good rate.

Amanda-Clearcreek holds a season mark of 2-4 and are currently in eighth place in the Mid State with a 1-3 mark.

Logan Elm will be out to retain its league leadership Friday night when the Braves go to Bloom Carroll to meet the Bulldogs.

Bloom Carroll is 4-4 on the year and stand 4-3 in Mid State competition. Dave Cotner is the big man for the Bulldogs and the one that the Braves will have to contain.

However, the Bulldogs will also have their hands full with the scoring of Jeff Reichelderfer, Chuck Cave and Scott Allen.

Coach Bob Hoover and his Teays Valley Vikings will have to stop Olenangy who at the present time is tied with the Vikings for third place in the Metropolitan League with marks of 3-2.

Olenangy is paced by the scoring of John Heath and Rick Roll who are two of the leagues leading scorers.

Jeff Cauger, Tim Tosca and Dave Schiff are the scorers the Braves will have to contain as they lead the high scoring offense of the Vikings.

Junior Vikings Win Cage Tilts

The Teays Valley seventh and eighth grade basketball teams defeated visiting Pickerington Tuesday on the winners floor. The Viking eighth graders overwhelmed Pickerington 45-16 and the seventh graders crushed their opponent 53-18.

Teays Valley's eighth graders, 4-3, led Pickerington at the end of each quarter, 11-4, 25-4, and 41-9.

Shawn Blue led the Viking scorers with 18 points, John Sanders had 15, Dean Brown and Bill Pettibone had four each and R. D. Roese and Norm Dresbach added two apiece.

The Viking seventh graders, 8-2, led Pickerington 17-4, 28-7, and 39-11 at the end of each quarter.

Rusty Sturgell led the scoring with 14 points, Mike Roberts added nine, Pat Roese, Joe Chandler and Bill Neal each had eight, Jim Baemel netter five and Scott Ford had one.

Both teams will be back in action Jan. 15, when they host New Albany.

Arbitration Rulings Eyed In Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball, with dates in court and at the negotiating table for a pair of adversary proceedings, has planned a special meeting among friends Jan. 14 in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Baseball, shaken by last month's historic arbitration decision that made free agents of pitchers Andy Messersmith and Dave McNally, will attempt to get its house in order during the meeting involving both the American and National leagues.

M. Donald Grant, chairman of the board of the New York Mets and head of baseball's franchise committee, said there were three reasons for the meeting.

"First is the players relations report," Grant said, "second is the consideration of various people interested in buying the San Francisco Giants, and third is the report and the suggestion of the franchise committee subsequent to something happening in the area of our franchise problems."

After baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn on Monday night announced the special meeting, reports circulated that the owners would hear a franchise committee recommendation that the Oakland A's should move to Seattle, which has a lawsuit against the American League set to begin Jan. 12. The report said each major league club would ante $250,000 to buy off the A's lease with the city of Oakland.

"There is no truth to that report insofar as the committee is concerned," Grant said.

In Chicago, Charles O. Finley, owner of the A's, said he wasn't going to move his team.

"No way, no way," said Finley. "Rumors are a dime a dozen. It's just another rumor. I went to Oakland in 1968 and ever since I've been in Oakland, rumors have had me moving to Seattle, New Orleans, Chicago, Toronto and Washington D.C. There hasn't been any truth to any of them."

"We've been in Oakland eight years and I'd like to feel we've established some credibility. We've won five division titles and three world championships. Frankly, I love the Bay Area and I like to think the fans love us a little."

Grant said his committee planned no recommendation at the Jan. 14 meeting and could not until baseball solved some of its franchise problems, such as the Seattle suit — filed because the Brewers left Seattle for Milwaukee; gaining a team for Washington D.C., and removing one team from the congested San Francisco Bay area.

A baseball source said the franchise committee would issue a report but called that presentation "a smokescreen."

"The real problem," the source said, "is the contract and the report by the owners' players relations committee. That's much more important."

Marvin Miller, executive director of the players association, agreed that the real purpose for baseball's hurry-up meeting was to discuss the ongoing negotiations with the players union.

Miller said his union and the owners, who refused to bargain on the reserve rule in the past, "still haven't talked about it (the reserve rule) in any depth. But I think it's a fair statement to say that both parties are prepared to negotiate on every issue."

Islanders Demolish Scouts, 8-1

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The puck flew off Jude Drouin's stick, jetted past Ed Westfall, and settled in the netting behind Kansas City Scouts' goalie Bill McKenzie.

The two New York Islanders' players stood together on the Nassau Coliseum ice.

"I thought Eddie had tipped it in. I asked him about it, whether he had tipped it in or not," said Drouin. "I said to him, 'I don't want you to give the goal to me unless it's mine. That's no way to get a hat trick.'"

Westfall, the veteran captain of the Islanders, said no, he hadn't deflected the disc and Jude Drouin had the first three-goal game of his National Hockey League career.

The goals were among the eight scored as the Islanders laughed through an 8-1 romp over the Scouts. Elsewhere in the NHL, the St. Louis Blues topped the New York Rangers 5-2, the Atlanta Flames trimmed the Detroit Red Wings 4-3, and the Vancouver Canucks bested the woebegone Washington Capitals 5-3.

"It's exciting, since it's my first (three-goal game)," said Drouin, who added, "I just wish it had come against a better team."

All three of Drouin's goals came during Islanders' power plays. Defenseman Gerry Hart scored a pair of his own, and as the game reached its later stages, the sellout crowd wanted Hart to duplicate Drouin's effort.

LE Braves Sink Lakers, 74-47

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Jeff Reichelderfer almost melted the hoop as he poured 36 points, 26 in the first half, through the rim and led Logan Elm to a 74-47 win over visiting Millersport, despite the fact that the Lakers were on top at the end of the first quarter, Tuesday night at the Spangler Memorial gym in a Mid State League contest.

The victory left the Braves with the only unblemished mark in the Mid State, 5-0, and leaves them perched on the top of the heap in the race for the league crown.

Reichelderfer seemed to own the basket as he hit 12 of 18 from the field and 12 of 14 from the charity stripe to compile his total. He continually intimidated and overpowered the Laker defenders as he drove for bucket after bucket.

Steve Rawlins came off the bench to add eight points to the Braves cause, Mike Miller hooped seven, Chuck Cave hit six, Scott Allen and Lonnie Maxson each tallied four, Randy Strous had three while Mark Skinner, Dave Dean and Mike Patrick each netted two.

Bob Weldon led Millersport with 12 markers, Alex Wilhelmssen added nine, Chad Dupler and Ruby Helle each tallied seven, Brad Smith hit for six, Ed Keller netted four and Steve Pierce tallied two.

The Braves connected on 30 of 71 from the floor for 42 per cent and converted 14 of 23 foul shots for 61 per cent.

Millersport shot 17 of 47 from the hardwood for 36 per cent and was 13 of 21 for 62 per cent at the charity stripe.

Logan Elm dominated the boards as the Braves pulled down 40 rebounds while Millersport managed to grab 21 missed shots. Cave and Dean were the big board men for the Braves while Dupler and Wilhelmssen were tops for the Lakers.

Both teams were guilty of miscues as Millersport committed 28 turnovers and Logan Elm was guilty 22 times.

The Braves had 19 fouls called against them in the contest and the Lakers drew 23.

Millersport, who hasn't won a game this season, shocked the Logan Elm fans as they came right out in the first quarter showing that they came to play. Despite the fact that they committed 11 turnovers in the period, when the buzzer sounded the scoreboard showed—Millersport 21 and Logan Elm 19.

The big factor in the canto for the Lakers was that they stepped to the foul line nine times and netted all nine shots.

Eleven points by Reichelderfer and a couple of baskets by Maxson kept the Braves in range during the canto.

But Logan Elm began to take charge in the second frame and with Reichelderfer leading the Braves on the warpath the half ended with Logan Elm holding a 42-31 edge.

Miller and Reichelderfer both found themselves in foul trouble early in the third canto and went to the bench.

However, Steve Rawlins came off the bench and hit a pair of buckets along with Allen and Dean also netting a basket to help the Braves maintain a 52-39 advantage at the end of the frame.

Coach Asa Bradbury went to the bench with five minutes left in the final period and the Braves showed their desire to perform as they dominated the game the rest of the way to send the crowd home happy.

The reserve game was almost unbelievable as Logan Elm crushed Millersport, 60-24, to run its season record to 6-2.

The Lakers failed to score a point until 3:07 of the second and trailed 27-6 at halftime. The Braves were holding a large margin, 44-15, at the end of the third canto and were home in the fourth frame.

Jeff Collins and Todd Young each had 10 points to pace Logan Elm, Mike Patrick added eight, Tony Crist and John Mettler each had six, Mark Martin hooped five, Eric Maxson, Doug Woods and Marlon Luckhart all had four, Bruce Carter netted two and Rock Huggins tallied one. Mike Washburn had eight for Millersport.

Logan Elm is now 6-2 for the season and 5-0 in Mid State action. The Braves will travel to Bloom Carroll Friday night to meet the always dangerous Bulldogs in a league contest.

Arbitration Rulings Eyed In Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball, with dates in court and at the negotiating table for a pair of adversary proceedings, has planned a special meeting among friends Jan. 14 in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Baseball, shaken by last month's historic arbitration decision that made free agents and Dave McNally, will attempt to get its house in order during the meeting involving both the American and National leagues.

M. Donald Grant, chairman of the board of the New York Mets and head of baseball's franchise committee, said there were three reasons for the meeting.

"First is the players relations report," Grant said, "second is the consideration of various people interested in buying the San Francisco Giants, and third is the report and the suggestion of the franchise committee subsequent to something happening in the area of our franchise problems."

After Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn on Monday night announced the special meeting, reports circulated that the owners would hear a franchise committee recommendation that the Oakland A's should move to Seattle, which has a lawsuit against the American League set to begin Jan. 12. The report said each major league club would ante $250,000 to buy off the A's lease with the city of Oakland.

"There is no truth to that report insofar as the committee is concerned," Grant said.

In Chicago, Charles O. Finley, owner of the A's, said he wasn't going to move his team.

"No way, no way," said Finley. "Rumors are a dime a dozen. It's just another rumor. I went to Oakland in 1968 and ever since I've been in Oakland, rumors have had me moving to Seattle, New Orleans, Chicago, Toronto and Washington D.C. There hasn't been any truth to any of them."

"We've been in Oakland eight years and I'd like to feel we've established some credibility. We've won five division titles and three world championships. Frankly, I love the Bay Area and I like to think the fans love us a little."

Grant said his committee planned no recommendation at the Jan. 14 meeting and could not until baseball solved some of its franchise problems, such as the Seattle suit — filed because the Brewers left Seattle for Milwaukee; gaining a team for Washington D.C., and removing one team from the congested San Francisco Bay area.

A baseball source said the franchise committee would issue a report but called that presentation "a smokescreen."

"The real problem," the source said, "is the contract and the report by the owners' players relations committee. That's much more important."

Marvin Miller, executive director of the players association, agreed that the real purpose for baseball's hurry-up meeting was to discuss the ongoing negotiations with the players union.

Miller said his union and the owners, who refused to bargain on the reserve rule in the past, "still haven't talked about it (the reserve rule) in any depth. But I think it's a fair statement to say that both parties are prepared to negotiate on every issue."

Islanders Demolish Scouts, 8-1

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The puck flew off Jude Drouin's stick, jetted past Ed Westfall, and settled in the netting behind Kansas City Scouts' goalie Bill McKenzie.

The two New York Islanders' players stood together on the Nassau Coliseum ice.

"I thought Eddie had tipped it in. I asked him about it, whether he had tipped it in or not," said Drouin. "I said to him, 'I don't want you to give the goal to me unless it's mine. That's no way to get a hat trick.'"

Westfall, the veteran captain of the Islanders, said no, he hadn't deflected the disc and Jude Drouin had the first three-goal game of his National Hockey League career.

The goals were among the eight scored as the Islanders laughed through an 8-1 romp over the Scouts. Elsewhere in the NHL, the St. Louis Blues topped the New York Rangers 5-2, the Atlanta Flames trimmed the Detroit Red Wings 4-3, and the Vancouver Canucks bested the woebegone Washington Capitals 5-3.

"It's exciting, since it's my first (three-goal game)," said Drouin, who added, "I just wish it had come against a better team."

All three of Drouin's goals came during Islanders' power plays. Defenseman Gerry Hart scored a pair of his own, and as the game reached its later stages, the sellout crowd wanted Hart to duplicate Drouin's effort.

All County Cagers in League Action

Westfall will see court action Friday and Saturday while Logan Elm and Teays Valley will be on the hardwoods on Friday night.

The Mustangs will host Scioto Valley Conference leaders Zane Trace Friday and will also be home Saturday when Amanda-Clearcreek invades Mustang Country.

The Pioneers are currently leading the conference with a record of 6-0 and have a 9-1 mark in the season.

Jeff Wright, Emmitt Wallace, Terry French and Tim Britton have been

The Circleville ninth grade basketball team lost to a tall, talented J. A. Smith of Chillicothe, 68-35, and the eighth grade won, 30-29 over J. A. Smith.

The J. A. Smith frosh are undefeated. They rolled to a 28-14 first quarter lead, a 42-20 halftime edge and a 57-27 third quarter margin.

All five starters for the winners scored in double figures, led by John Herrnshtein with 14 points.

For Circleville, Pete Harrison notched an even dozen, Richard Elsea scored nine, Tim Pontious five, Jeff Strawser four, Don Hill and Pat Poorman two each and Brian Sealock one. The Tiger frosh have a 2-3 record and host Washington C. H. 4:45 p.m. Thursday at Mill Street Gym.

Eighth grade coach Ty Ankrom credited a fine team effort for the one point win over Smith. The Tigers led 14-6 at the end of the first period, 23-16 after two and 28-22 after three.

Anthony Smith led the locals with 12 markers, Mark Morrison scored 10, Mike Harrison four, Brad Willoughby and Scott Allen two each. Ankrom also commended Keith Lewis for a fine job on the boards, Brad Allen for a good floor game and Jeff Lanman for a good all around effort.

The Tiger eighth grade will travel to Washington C. H. Thursday.

Little Mustangs Split Contests

Westfall's seventh grade basketball team defeated Mt. Sterling, 29-22, while the Mustang eighth grade team fell to their Mt. Sterling opponent, 52-35.

The Mustang seventh graders, 9-2, led at the end of each quarter 6-2, 12-4 and 22-8.

Jerry Mowery led all scorers with 19 points, Lonnie Puckett and Greg Beard added four each and Matt Gibson rounded out the Westfall scoring with two. Richardson led Mt. Sterling scorers with nine points.

Westfall's eighth graders, 0-8, trailed Mt. Sterling at the end of each quarter 15-6, 27-24 and 38-21.

D. Brown of Mt. Sterling led all scorers with 21 markers, Gray had 15 and Griffith tallied 12 for the winners. Shorty Roberts led the Westfall scoring with 12 points, Dave Roush had eight, Mike Whitten netted six, Lee Bowser hooped three and Tracy Puckett and Chuck Sollars added two each.

Both of Westfall's teams will be back in action on Jan. 13 when they travel to Logan Elm.

putting cants on the board for Zane Trace.

But the Mustangs of coach Mike Eckle are really coming on and can be dangerous on their own range. Kevin Reid and Chris Riddle have been ripping the nets at a pretty good rate.

Amanda-Clearcreek holds a season mark of 2-4 and are currently in eighth place in the Mid State with a 1-3 mark.

Logan Elm will be out to retain its league leadership Friday night when the Braves go to Bloom Carroll to meet the Bulldogs.

Bloom Carroll is 4-4 on the year and stand 4-3 in Mid State competition. Dave Cotner is the big man for the Bulldogs and the one that the Braves will have to contain.

However, the Bulldogs will also have their hands full with the scoring of Jeff Reichelderfer, Chuck Cave and Scott Allen.

Coach Bob Hoover and his Teays Valley Vikings will have to stop Orlentango who at the present time is tied with the Vikings for third place in the Metropolitan League with marks of 3-2.

Orlentango is paced by the scoring of John Heath and Rick Roll who are two of the leagues leading scorers.

Jeff Cauger, Tim Tosca and Dave Schiff are the scorers the Braves will have to contain as they lead the high scoring offense of the Vikings.

Junior Vikings Win Cage Tilts

The Teays Valley seventh and eighth grade basketball teams defeated visiting Pickerington Tuesday on the winners floor. The Viking eighth graders overwhelmed Pickerington 45-16 and the seventh graders crushed their opponent 53-18.

Teays Valley's eighth graders, 4-3, led Pickerington at the end of each quarter, 11-4, 25-4, and 41-9.

Shawn Blue led the Viking scorers with 18 points, John Sanders had 15, Dean Brown and Bill Pettibone had four each and R. D. Roese and Norm Dresbach added two apiece.

The Viking seventh graders, 8-2, led Pickerington 17-4, 28-7, and 39-11 at the end of each quarter.

Rusty Sturgell led the scoring with 14 points, Mike Roberts added nine, Pat Roese, Joe Chandler and Bill Neal each had eight, Jim Baemel netter five and Scott Ford had one.

Both teams will be back in action Jan. 15, when they host New Albany.

Booster Club Meets

Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet 8 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria.

Coaches Jim Bailey and Brent Bell will discuss the basketball and wrestling programs and upcoming contests.

The public is invited.

1. Card of Thanks

I am deeply grateful for the skill of Dr. Lutz, my fine family doctors, J. M. and Charles Hedges, my minister, Henry Walters, and to the staff at Berger Hospital for the excellent care that I received. I will always remember the thoughtfulness of those who took time out of their busy holiday schedule to come to visit or send cards, flowers, fruit, and gifts. I want to express my special appreciation to all those who had my family for dinner or who brought such good food over to them. I am fortunate to be living in Circleville where the people are so very kind and concerned about others. God Bless you every one.

Shirley Wylie

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Brian Herron wish to thank the hundreds of friends, neighbors, relatives and his classmates for the many kind and comforting words and help after the loss of our beloved son and brother. For the many beautiful floral offerings, memorial donations, letters, cards of sympathy, food and all loving, helpful acts during this time of our great loss and sorrow, we extend our heartfelt gratitude and deep appreciation.

Special thanks to Pastor Carl Zehner for his devotion, comforting prayers and wonderful consoling service throughout this sad time. To Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and staff for their many kind acts and help. To the Logan Elm wrestling team and football team, pallbearers and honorary pallbearers, to Brian's coaches and teachers, who came forth to help us so much, our grateful appreciation and to the Defenbaugh-Wise Funeral Home for their kind, efficient services.

To each and everyone who contributed in any way during this time of our great loss and sorrow, we pray the blessings of our Lord and Savior be with you always. The Family of Brian Herron

1. Card of Thanks

I am deeply grateful for the skill of Dr. Lutz, my fine family doctors, J. M. and Charles Hedges, my minister, Henry Walters, and to the staff at Berger Hospital for the excellent care that I received. I will always remember the thoughtfulness of those who took time out of their busy holiday schedule to come to visit or send cards, flowers, fruit, and gifts. I want to express my special appreciation to all those who had my family for dinner or who brought such good food over to them. I am fortunate to be living in Circleville where the people are so very kind and concerned about others. God Bless you every one.

Shirley Wylie

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Brian Herron wish to thank the hundreds of friends, neighbors, relatives and his classmates for the many kind and comforting words and help after the loss of our beloved son and brother.

For the many beautiful floral offerings, memorial donations, letters, cards of sympathy, food and all loving, helpful acts during this time of our great loss and sorrow, we extend our heartfelt gratitude and deep appreciation.

Special thanks to Pastor Carl Zehner for his devotion, comforting prayers and wonderful consoling service throughout this sad time. To Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and staff for their many kind acts and help. To the Logan Elm wrestling team and football team, pallbearers and honorary pallbearers. To Brian's coaches and teachers, who came forth to help us so much. Our grateful appreciation and to the Defenbaugh-Wise Funeral Home for their kind, efficient services.

To each and everyone who contributed in any way during this time of our great loss and sorrow, we pray the blessings of our Lord and Savior be with you always.

The Family of Brian Herron

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You may have some more revisions to make, but the general outlook indicates gains in most areas. A special reward may come from an unexpected source.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Don't confuse real problems with imaginary ones. Look over your schedule and weed out nonessentials. Personality conflicts should not deter good effort.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Good Mercury influences should stimulate your ingenuity and unusual ideas. Present the latter at strategic moments: They should be accepted with enthusiasm now.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A day for accomplishment! Put out feelers to gain new perspective, a broadened viewpoint, a variety of opinions. Business deals favored.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You may have a complex program. Tackle it with unobtrusive but solid determination, however. Back what you should stoutly, but avoid being sharp with others.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): It may occur to you to try and imitate another to get results. But think again. Your own methods could prove more advantageous in the long run.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Concentrate on substantial and pertinent matters. Avoid activities which interfere with obligations. A good idea from an unexpected source could prove extremely helpful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Keep on your own course. Fend off the skeptics and the worry birds. Don't make changes just because someone suggests them. Have a logical reason.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21): A day in which to emphasize your finesse; for doing things in such an unusual way that others will not only approve, but look forward to your next move.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Take everything into account before you begin the day. Observe outside influences, trends. Do not change plans if you logically should not.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Auspicious influences now stimulate your imagination and creative talents. Progress and enduring reward indicated through properly channeled efforts.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Avoid impulsiveness. There's such a tendency now and it could lead you into errors, so be careful.

YOU BORN TODAY

are an extremely conservative individual. Your image of yourself is one of respectability and substance and you constantly strive, not only to live up to it, but to see that others recognize it. You have unusually high moral standards; in fact, can be downright prudish at times. Intellectually inclined, you are apt to prefer spending your time in scholarly pursuits than in social activities. Yet you WANT people to like you - sometimes an almost hopeless desire in view of your natural introspectiveness. You have excellent business acumen and, in your own quiet way, are capable of exercising the greatest of shrewdness in financial dealings. Other

NEW YORK (AP) — While

NBC's "Today" show still is the undisputed king of the ratings among the network morning shows, something curious seems to be afoot, an apparent drop in the number of homes tuned in on "Today."

Depending on which audience estimate is cited, the drop could be as much as 21 per cent or as little as 8 per cent or even smaller.

We came across this during a query to the A.C. Nielsen ratings company on how ABC's new two-hour "Good Morning, America" show, begun Nov. 3, was doing against NBC's two-hour "Today" show.

The answer: The new show has slightly better ratings than its predecessor, "AM America," which ABC began on Jan. 6 last year. That show's first week on TV was seen in nearly three million fewer homes than "Today."

ABC research expert Marvin Mord says the new show only has marginally attracted members of the "Today" audience and that its ratings increase seems attributable to a new audience it is developing.

But regardless of from where the audience for ABC's new show is coming, whether "Today" is maintaining its past drawing power seems in doubt.

Nielsen says its published audience estimates — based on data from 1,200 homes equipped with TV meters — cover only the last 30 minutes of each hour "Today" and "Good Morning, America" are on the air, because only these segments carry national advertising.

The highest-rated segment usually is the one from 8:30 to 9 a.m. EST.

Nielsen figures for only that segment, covering a period from September 1974 to early January 1975, show that viewers in an estimated 3,973,000 homes watched "Today" each week then.

The most recent data available for this season, from September to the first week in December, show an estimated 3,132,000 homes tuned to the last half-hour of "Today," or an average of 841,000 fewer homes.

That's quite an apparent drop. But we emphasize the word apparent, because in the mind of NBC research expert Bill Rubens the drop is by no means all that certain or large.

He cited an NBC study of a different audience survey — by the American Research Bureau, which all three networks use — made last November during what the networks call a ratings "sweep."

In this detailed survey, based on sampling of nearly 100,000 homes in more than 200 cities, there only was an 8 per cent drop in the "Today" audience compared with November 1974 figures, Rubens said.

He said the apparent 21 per cent drop recorded in the longer periods covered in the Nielsen data may reflect changes in the company's audience-sampling system, "rather than a real change in the program's audience."

Nielsen says it has made no significant changes this season.

Truck Driver Was Hero

DIAMOND SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Claude Ong, a propane truck driver who had been on the job only three months, discovered a liquid propane gas leak while making a home delivery.

A potentially deadly explosion was in the making. Ong discovered the leak in fitting a hose on his truck.

He "immediately went back to the house and turned off all sources of ignition such as pilot lights," said Ong's boss, Dan Huntley. "He did one wonderful job."

The leaking gas caused alarm among the Pleasant Valley volunteer fire department, sheriff's personnel and the California Highway Patrol. The road to where the truck was parked was briefly closed.

Cautiously the truck was moved from the scene, unloaded at the plant at Placerville and sent off for repairs.

Mothers' March On Birth Defects Scheduled Jan. 25-31

The Circleville Mothers' March on Birth Defects for the March of Dimes will be held January 25 through January 31.

That week over 100 area volunteers will be marching door to door to raise funds for March of Dimes programs in medical services, research and education, according to Louise Hill, 345 E. Main St., Mothers' March Chairman.

Hill cited specific areas where the money will be used:

The grant from the March of Dimes at the Birth Defects Center at Children's Hospital is used to further existing programs which serve between 1,000 and 1,200 central Ohio patients a year.

4-H March of Dimes cooperative program designed to offer birth defect children a relaxed level of learning

Education Prime Concern At PSWD Planning Session

Education of the public on the need for conservation and wise land use was the number one priority discussed at the annual planning meeting of the Pickaway Soil and Water Conservation District Tuesday.

It was pointed out that too many people have purchased rural lots only to find out too late the soil was unsuitable for a septic tank-leech bed disposal system or that no water supply was available.

In most cases the public is not concerned about land use or conservation until it directly affects them, it was explained.

Jim Kerr, Ohio Division of Lands and Soils, announced the soil survey for Pickaway County will be completed by June. Although the soil survey information will be available at the PSWCD office, publication of the information in book form will take at least another three years.

The project was started July 1, 1969. Pickaway County commissioners at that time provided $14,000 as the county's share of the cost which is over $300,000. According to Kerr, the county's share today would be about $60,000.

At the planning meeting, chaired by David Bolender, chairman of the board of directors of PSWCD, those attending also touched briefly on the possibility of the district taking over the supervision of group ditch maintenance. This is presently under the supervision of the Pickaway County Commissioners and engineer Henry McCrady.

The report on the accomplishments of the district from July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975 was distributed to those attending.

Officer Named Buckeye Saves Vacation Time For Ohioan

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — It has cost him a few extra dollars, but a vacationing Ohioan, with the help of a policeman named Buckeye, has demonstrated the virtues of honesty and good citizenship.

John D. Kovacs, a retired railroad man from Mentor, Ohio, arrived Dec. 14 with his wife for a reunion with their son Gerald, a 21-year-old petty officer 3rd class on the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk.

But a $260 certified check on which the Kovacs depended to pay for the month's trip never got to them in the mail.

A transient was arrested Dec. 29 and charged with having taken it from their motel mailbox and trying to cash it.

After borrowing from friends, Kovacs was turned down when he telephoned his bank at Mentor asking for a duplicate check.

The banker said it was certified and he would be liable if something happened to the original check. Then police asked Kovacs to testify at the suspect's preliminary hearing Jan. 14—a day after the Kovacs' 30-day excursion ticket expires.

There was no money to buy a new airplane ticket. A travel agency said Kovacs' ticket expiration date would be stretched if he lied, saying his heart condition was serious again. He refused to lie.

Then a detective named Buckeye came to the Ohioan's rescue. Policeman Larry Buckeye, who made the arrest, telephoned the Mentor bank twice, finally guaranteeing the return of the stolen check after it is used as evidence.

An assistant district attorney said he would talk to airlines to "get them to bend a little" about Kovacs' expiring ticket.

And Kovacs said Tuesday that he has decided to stay and testify as a good citizen, paying out of his own pocket for the unexpected food and lodging.

Conservation Meet Set In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 33rd annual meeting of the Ohio Federation of Soil and Water Conservation Districts is set for Jan 13-15 in Columbus with discussions on land use rights, new conservation technology and environmental issues as the highlights.

Ohio Natural Resources Director Robert W. Teater will present the keynote address to the 440 representatives from Ohio's 88 conservation districts at the Columbus Hilton.

Other speakers at the meeting include Ned Williams, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency; John Stackhouse, director of the state agriculture department, and Francis Mayo, director of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Chicago office.

Families Evacuated In Blaze

LEETONIA, Ohio (AP) — Police said about a dozen families were evacuated Tuesday night from homes near a chemical tank car that wound up in the middle of a lumber yard fire.

The residents of this eastern Ohio village were evacuated as a precaution because authorities were unable to determine what kind of chemical was in the tanker, authorities said.

There were unofficial reports that two tankers believed loaded with naphtha did burn.

A third tanker was pulled away from the flames by a locomotive. At least seven cars were reported off the tracks in the heart of the village.

Firemen said one small explosion reported inside the yard was believed to have been caused by paint solvent.

Damage to the Mellinger Lumber Co. was reported unofficially at up to $100,000.

Witnesses said flames shooting up from the yard were visible to three miles away before firemen from five communities brought the fire under control.

The lumber company is situated on a main line of the Penn-Central Transportation Co. Last summer, a boxcar derailed and ripped out the back end of the lumber company building.
